NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Immigration is picking up again.

—S. J. T.—Have looked in vain for your letter. Write and all will be forgiven.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

—In the language of flowers—the thermometer would be represented by the tuberose.—New York C. M. Ad.

—They took a look into "Bab's" real estate speculations yesterday, and some curious revelations were made.

—A Western member said that the verdict in Belknap's case was like that of the Texas jury who found the man "not guilty—if he leaves the State."

—Samuel Cary, the horny handed son of toil, who never did a day's manual work in his life, has been tacked on as tail to the ticket, of which Peter Cooper is the head.

—Theodore Thomas is disgusted with the lack of patronage afforded him in Philadelphia, and has returned to his first love, New York, where he is gladly welcomed.

—The rumor that Crazy Horse and his band have arrived at the Agency, taken their beef and beans, and volunteered to enlist in Gen. Crook's command, seems to lack foundation.

—The mention of Gen. Grant's name at the soldiers meeting in Allegheny last night elicited the most enthusiastic applause. The "boys" evidently do not forget the march, the bivouac and the battle.

—There are 12,000 men and boys in San Francisco looking for work. If the surplus capital that is now locked up in the railroad and mining stocks were used to bolster up manufacturing, the unemployed might earn a living.

—In Canada the hay and oat crops are very large, but wheat has suffered severely, owing to the great heat. There are fair crops of peas and Indian corn, but fruits are less abundant. The general result appears to be satisfactory, and will stimulate Canadian trade.

—While two Ohio tramps were working to pay for their dinners, the other day, they were both struck by lightning and killed. It was the first time the lightning ever got a lick at a tramp at work, and it struck as if it knew it was going to be the last.—Courier Journal.

—After all, John Bright has not proven himself a fool. He did not, as reported, refuse to drink the toast of "The Empress." The toast was "Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Empress of India." Mr. Bright rose, though he did not drink, as he never touches wine.

—Business in England is exceptionally dull, and the prospects are exceedingly gloomy. What with the suspension of well known business houses and the vast distress among the working classes, caused by the want of employment the outlook for the coming winter presents a serious problem for English statesmen to solve.

—A curious phase of the labor conflict is presented in New York. A mass meeting of the unemployed was held for the purpose of uniting in an earnest address to the authorities asking for work. Almost at the same hour the long-shore-men on the west side "struck," and abandoned their work, being dissatisfied with their wages.

—The Graphic has a capital picture of a young officer grabbing by the throat a post-trader who has just been selling a rifle to an Indian. The officer seasons his action with the remark: "You rascal, how am I to keep order on the frontier with you selling rum and rifles to the Indians? If I can once get rid of you, the Sioux will be quiet enough."

—Another Congressional Committee has been obliged to take the back track. For some time past the abuses perpetuated in the Government insane asylum have filled the papers. Now the committee, which was a most unfriendly one, have come out fully exonerating the director, Dr. Nichols, from any of the charges that have been brought against him.

—Nature has stepped in to help the Pacific slopers to work off their surplus Chinamen. Fifteen Chinamen went up in a waterspout in Nevada last week. They were in a tent on a hillside near Eureka when the water broke upon them. Six were swept down the canon, and their bodies have not been found. One was carried two miles, but still lives.

—In taking the vote on the articles of impeachment, Mr. Ferry, as presiding officer of the Senate, under the rule adopted Monday, was compelled to put the question to himself, as a Senator, as follows: "Mr. Senator Ferry, how say you—is the respondent, Wm. W. Belknap, guilty or not guilty of a high crime, as charged in this article?" He then answered: "Not guilty."

—Great interest is felt in yachting circles over the approaching race for the Queen's cup, between the American yacht Madelene and the Canadian yacht Countess of Dufferin. The race or races will probably take place August 8th, 9th, 10th, and the chances seem to be in favor of the Madelene, judging from the manner in which the Countess of Dufferin was distanced when sailing for the Bennett cup.

—Judge Black's euphemism for bribery is "an outburst of gratitude." In one of these outbursts, he says, Marsh gave Belknap $6,000, and in another Belknap gave Marsh an appointment. It will be observed that two "outbursts" are required to make one case of bribery. The use of the new phrase in this connection is, therefore, objectionable as a pleonasm. Still, we agree with Judge Black that "Gratitude is a noble impulse."

—MacMahon has pardoned one hundred and twenty-seven more Communists, and ought to forgive all the rest. There are several thousand of them still in durance very vile, and as France can no longer dread their presence, why not allow the quality of mercy to be unstrained and let the transgressors go? MacMahon could not do a more popular thing, nor one that would more increase his influence with all classes of the French nation.

—In 1800 the wool clip of the country was only 65,000,000 pounds; in 1875 it was nearly 200,000,000 pounds. Last year we paid foreign countries $50,000,000 for woolen goods and $11,000,000 for manufactured. When we have 20,000,000 more sheep than we now have we shall barely equal our own consumption; but the flocks are increasing so in quality and in quantity that the danger of dependence is annually lessening.

—It would be an embarrassment to Gov. Hendricks, as a life-long hard-money man, if a report of his speech at Loveland, Ohio, on October 4, 1875, should turn up now. That was the occasion when he held up a ten cent scrip, and expatiated on the beauties of illimitable paper currency, and extolled its superiority to the effete metallic medium of exchange. It was very much of a soft money speech, and was hailed by the disciples of Governor Allen as a noble effort.

—It is undeniable that the summer journeyer is glad to go and glad to get back. It is the going, and the fatigue and worry and hot haste of the journey, which make the coming back and the rest at home so delightful. And nobody can tell how much more zest there is in life because of these frequent changes. He who goes away gets his change in place and scene. Perhaps he burns his nose, gets sand in his shoes, and loses his temper thrice a day. No matter, he has been shaken out of his routine, and he goes back to the city work with a feeling of elasticity which he did not have before.

—The Cambridge crew breakfast on English waffles before taking their morning pull on the Schuylkill. When asked what he thought of the course, one of them said: "The river is very handsome, but it's so devilish crooked, you know. Now in England we have the Thames and you can pull all the way from Waterloo Bridge to Richmond without turning. This gives a fellow a chance to let himself out, you know." Meanwhile, the Yale four at New Haven are on the river twice a day under the coaching eye of Capt. Cook. They live in the college boat house, walk a mile to their meals, and lead a jolly life, swimming, sleeping and reading. They will certainly row at Philadelphia, and probably at Saratoga.

—A new relic of Washington! A lady in Newburgh has in her possession a piece of the tablecloth the Father of his Country ate on at Morristown. She gives this account of it in the Newburgh Journal: "Gen. Washington gave it to the washerwoman, and by accident it got scorched. When she returned it to him there was a young lady present by the name of Eunice Lindsley, and he gave it to her. And when she married she made a wedding skirt of it. It was the fashion in those days to wear skirts and short gowns. One of General Washington's generals gave the same lady her wedding ring. She lived and died in Westtown, in the town of Minisink. Mr. Edmund Cook's wife was a grand-daughter of the lady spoken of. She gave the piece to me. She was formerly of Newburgh, but now of New York."

—Jenkins, of Hartford, has been to Saratoga and seen the children at a garden party. "One ridiculous sight was that of a little three-year old, who was dressed in a rose-colored silk, with a yard of her mamma's point lace flounce for an overdress, and who wore tiny white gloves, pearl fan pendant, pink silk stockings, and white kid boots the same color. Well, this baby started off well pleased to dance with another baby of her own age, but, seeing a companion of the like tender years dancing with a boy several years her senior, she came down the lawn with her mouth wide open, and her hands spread in frantic fashion, screaming vigorously, and when she reached her anxious mother yelled out with the passion of an enraged child, 'I want to dance with a boy. I won't dance with a girl.' Poor little thing! That is her beginning of woes, for there are numerous maidens all forlorn who would cry aloud if they could for masculine partners."

Investigation of the Recent Trials.

A Real Estate Transaction by Babcock Looked Into.

ADDITIONAL TESTIMONY OF BLUFORD WILSON.

He Denies Instructing a Revenue Agent to Work for Bristow for the Presidency.

WASHINGTON, August 2.—The Sub-Committee on Whisky Frauds this afternoon examined Col. Asa B. Gardner, stationed at West Point as Professor of Law in the Academy.

Mr. Plaisted called the attention of witness to an extract from Bluford Wilson's testimony touching Babcock's alleged losses in "Black Friday" transactions, and creating Col. Gardner, subsequently Judge Advocate of a military court of inquiry at Chicago, his trustee.

Witness said he was in the recruiting service in New York in the winter of 1868 and 1869, when, as a matter of politeness, he attended to a real estate transaction for Colonel Babcock. Witness did not think he had any letter or communication from him for three or four years before the ordering of the Babcock court of inquiry last year. General Butterfield, having knowledge of real estate, had furnished such information to officers of the army as enabled them to invest in it.

A Real Estate Transaction.

In 1869 President Grant came to New York, Col. Babcock accompanying him. Witness then related the circumstances of Col. Babcock buying a piece of property offered for $7,800, witness acting as trustee, as he had for other army officers in real estate transactions, but receiving no compensation. When Col. Babcock paid for the property a deed was given him, and he afterwards disposed of the property to Mr. Holmes. The property was originally owned by John Rogers. It was not convenient for General Butterfield to purchase the property, and mentioned it to Col. Babcock, with the results mentioned.

Witness said that on the 12th of February, 1869, the first payment on the property, five hundred dollars, was made by Gen. Butterfield for Col. Babcock. It was at Butterfield's request the property was first deeded to witness, not as trustee, but absolutely, but afterwards deeded to Babcock by him. He was attending to some business for Gen Porter at the time, that gentleman having purchased two lots in the same locality as Babcock's property.

Representative Cochran asked witness: Do you know whether Babcock ever paid a dollar for the property?

Answer—Not to my own knowledge.

Q.—Did you negotiate a mortgage on the property with a bank?

A.—Gen. Butterfield negotiated with a bank for five thousand dollars.

Witness, in further answer to questions, said the property was purchased with the understanding that Babcock should have it. Most of the arrangements were made by Gen. Butterfield, with whom witness was on duty at the time.

Representative Glover interrogated witness about property purchased by General Porter, from which it appears the first payment was $750, which he thought came by check from Gen. Butterfield, as did the other payment of $7,150.

A question was asked of witness whether he could say whether either Porter or Babcock paid one copper. Witness answered that he had knowledge derived from memoranda, which state that they sent a draft to Butterfield for $2,000. Witness was reminded by Representative Glover that he had said he was not well enough acquainted with Babcock and Porter to have drafts sent by them to him, and was asked how, in view of this statement, witness was entrusted with their real estate transactions. Witness answered that he was well known in the army, and this entire transaction, without ordinary safeguards, was purely based on the confidence Porter and Babcock had in him as an officer and gentleman. Being closely interrogated as to how Butterfield became mixed up all the time in the transaction, witness said that Butterfield was a personal friend of those gentlemen, and was desirous of doing them a kindness, and therefore assisted them in making the purchase.

Alex. P. Tutton, formerly Supervisor of Internal Revenue, testified as to the seizure of certain distilleries in Chicago, and the question of granting immunity to those implicated in frauds who should testify. There was nothing specially new in his evidence.

Bluford Wilson's Testimony.

Ex-Solicitor of the Treasury Bluford Wilson again testified. His testimony was mostly in explanation of his private papers and their subsequent examination by Treasury officials. His statement is substantiated by the affidavits of Messrs. Winslow and Dixon, private secretaries of witness, who packed the papers.

Witness testified that he had never had any evidence implicating Logan or Farwell, except statements of local prosecuting officers that these gentlemen were suspected. He had never himself expressed any belief or opinion that they were implicated, and he preferred not to do so now. In regard to the abandonment of the prosecutions against Ward and Wadsworth, he said that he had always firmly opposed it.

Mr. Wilson directly contradicted Gavitt, the revenue agent, who testified yesterday that the Solicitor had instructed him to go for Bristow for the Presidency, and read a letter accusing Gavitt of indiscreet and disreputable conduct while in Illinois, on account of which he was withdrawn from that service. Yaryan, however, admitted having told Gavitt that "this damned Blaine business must stop," because Gavitt devoted more time to politics than to business, while it was contrary to the orders of both Yaryan and the Commissioner for special agents to interfere with politics, either directly or indirectly.

By Mr. Plaisted—How many special agents were at Cincinnati in the interest of Bristow?

Answer—Not one that I can name now.

Q.—Was not Matthews there?

A.—Mr. Matthews was there. He was a supervisor.

Q.—Were all the supervisors of the South there?

A.—I cannot recall any except as they were there as delegates. Chamberlain, of Georgia, I believe, was there as a delegate. Those are the only two gentlemen I can now recall as having been there in the interest of Mr. Bristow, while there were hundreds of revenue agents there in the interest of the other candidates. I believe there were from eighty to one hundred there from the New York Custom House in the interest of Roscoe Conkling, a very large number in the interest of Morton, and quite a number in the interest of Blaine.

In reply to a question by the Chairman, Wilson said that Yaryan was one of the most devoted and efficient public officers he had ever met, and that Chapman, who claimed credit the other day for a large share of the work in St. Louis cases, knew nothing about them until they were all worked up for seizure.

The examination of the witness will probably be concluded to-morrow. It is expected Horace Porter will be examined to-morrow.

THE SPIRIT LAND.

Revelations Through a Divorce Suit—The Present American Minister to England Said to be Wanting Information About His Illustrious English Ancestors.

NEW YORK, August 2.—In the divorce case of Flint vs. Flint, the facts show that the defendant was a spirit medium, who was in the habit of opening communications from believers in Spiritualism to deceased friends, and after acquainting himself with the contents, of resealing the letters carefully and sending answers to suit the inquiries. These letters were recorded in memorandum books which came into the possession of Flint's wife, the plaintiff, and among the number is one containing queries purporting to be sent to the spirit land by the present American Minister to England, who wants more information, it seems, about his illustrious English ancestors than is to be found in the Herald's College.

Business Failures in Columbus.

COLUMBUS, August 2.—Brooks & Houston, wholesale grocers, and W. B. Brooks & Son, miners and shippers of coal, have made assignments for the benefit of their creditors. W. B. Brooks and Alexander Houston also made individual assignments. The firms are among the oldest in Columbus, and it is estimated that their assets, consisting largely of real estate, will, at low valuation, more than cover their liabilities.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON August 2, 1876.

SENATE.

Reward to Secretary Seward's Defender.

A substitute for the House bill granting a pension to E. M. Hansett, a messenger in the State Department injured while defending the late Secretary Seward from the assassin Payne, was passed. The substitute awards two thousand dollars.

Resolutions, etc., Reported.

Mr. CAMERON (Wis.), from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, reported back the claim of Wm. K. Sebastian, a United States Senator from Arkansas, who was expelled in 1861 for alleged disloyalty, with a resolution rescinding the resolution expelling him from the Senate, and authorizing the payment of his salary from the date of his expulsion to the time of his death to his heirs. Placed on the calendar. He gave notice that he would call up the resolution at some future day for consideration.

Mr. HOWE, from the Committee on Library, reported a bill to provide for a reprint of the acts and resolves of the Continental Congress and the Congress of the Confederation. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. MORTON submitted a resolution to print 10,000 copies of the message of the President in regard to the late massacre at Hamburg, S. C. Referred to the Committee on Printing.

The Senate then went into executive session, and when the doors were reopened consideration of

The River and Harbor Appropriation Bill

was resumed. The Committee on Appropriations having reported an amendment appropriating $8,000 for the repair of the East Pier at Cleveland, Ohio,

Mr. SHERMAN moved to further amend so as to authorize the Secretary of War to agree with the Pittsburgh & Cleveland Railroad Company for such use and occupancy by it of said pier upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just.

Mr. SARGENT moved a further amendment so as to provide that in case said railroad company shall neglect or refuse to make an agreement satisfactory to the Secretary of War, upon a certificate of that fact to the Attorney General it shall be the duty of the latter officer to enforce the rights of the United States in the premises by appropriate action.

The amendment of Mr. Sargent was accepted by Mr. Sherman, and the question being on agreeing to the amendment of Mr. Sherman as amended by Mr. Sargent, a lengthy discussion followed as to the power of the General Government to make improvements in States, construct wharves, &c., after which the amendment was agreed to, and also the amendment of the committee as amended by Mr. Sherman.

Other amendments of the committee were agreed to without discussion, among them the following: Striking out of the bill as it was recently agreed upon in the Senate Committee of the Whole the appropriations of $10,000 for the Hiawassee river, in Tennessee; $10,000 for the Powell river, in Virginia and Tennessee; $20,000 for the Elk river, West Virginia; $23,000 for the Rock Castle river, Ky.; $150,000 for the French Broad river, Tenn.; $10,000 for the Missouri river at a point where it is cutting into the Kansas shore, above St. Joseph, Mo.; $25,000 for the upper Monongahela river, W. Va.; $25,000 for the Big Sandy, Ky.; $50,000 for the improvement of the channel of the Mississippi river opposite the city of St. Louis, Mo.; $70,000 for the harbor at Monroe, Mich.; $15,000 for the harbor at McCargoe's Cave, Mich.; $10,000 for the harbor at Ashtabula, O.; $8,000 for Fairport harbor, O.; $25,000 for the Osage river, Mo., and $50,000 for examinations and survey of rivers and harbors and for incidental repairs of harbors for which there is no special appropriation.

The amendments reported by the committee to increase the appropriations were agreed to, as follows: For the improvement of the Fox and Wisconsin rivers, from $190,000 to $270,000; and for the harbor at Erie, Pa., from $40,000 to $50,000.

New amendments reported by the committee were agreed to, as follows: $7,300 for the removal of the Beaver and Nailor Bend rocks from the Little Kanawha river, West Virginia; $10,000 for the improvement of Rush Chute and the harbor of Burlington, Ia.; $10,000 for the harbor at Fort Madison, Ia.; $6,000 for repairs of the piers at the mouth of the Black river, O.; and $15,000 for the removal of a bar in the Mississippi river opposite Dubuque, Ia.

Amendments reducing appropriations were agreed to, as follows: For the improvement of the Des Moines Rapids, Mississippi river, from $75,000 to $30,000; improvement of the Cumberland river, $75,000 to $50,000; for the Great Kanawha river, W. Va., $300,000 to $270,000; removing the "raft" in the Red river, $40,000 to $35,000; for the harbor at Manitowac, Wis., $10,000 to $8,000; for the harbor at Sheboygan, Wis., $8,000 to $6,000; improvement of the Yazoo river, Miss., $22,000 to $15,000; for the harbor at Michigan City, $50,000 to $30,000; improvement of the St. Mary's river and St. Mary's falls canal, Michigan, $200,000 to $100,000; harbor at Thunder Bay, Mich., $5,000 to $4,500; for the improvement of the harbor of refuge in Lake Michigan, $100,000 to $75,000, including the removal of the wreck of the City of Buffalo; for the improvement of the Chippewa river, Wis., $15,000 to $10,000; for the harbor at Calumet, Ill., from $25,000 to $20,000; for the improvement of the Ohio river, from $270,000 to $200,000; for the improvement of the Mississippi, Missouri and Arkansas rivers, $125,000 to $100,000 ($40,000 of the amount to be expended on the Missouri river and $10,000 for removing the bar at Fort Smith, Ark.); for the improvement of the Tennessee river, $300,000 to $270,000.

Other amendments of the committee, increasing the appropriation for the Upper Mississippi from $20,000 to $30,000, and the improvement of Rock Island rapids, Mississippi river, from $20,000 to $25,000, were agreed to.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.

The Silver Bill.

The regular order being demanded, the House considered the Bland silver bill.

Mr. KASSON said the practical difficulty with those of the House who opposed the bill was a want of sufficient information to vote on the numerous propositions embraced by the bill, and therefore they desire such opportunity as was given by other parliamentary bodies—an inquiry by a committee, with a written report. The bill affected the payment of the public debt, wages of labor, and payment of all debts contracted since 1873. It affected the payment of one thousand million dollars of savings in savings and other banks, apparently authorizing a depreciation of ten per cent. for paper and twenty per cent. for gold.

Action on the bill to-day was prevented by motions to adjourn, and when the House adjourn to-day it be till Saturday, and a call of the roll on each motion, which consumed the morning hour.

Committee Reports.

Mr. MUTCHLER made a unanimous report of the Committee on Expenditures in the Interior Department on the Insane Asylum investigation, and majority and minority reports of the same committee in regard to the survey of public lands were also made. All ordered printed and recommitted.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Clymer in the chair, the object being to take up and act upon the bill to provide that pensions shall date from the death or disability of the soldier, but the chairman decided (and his decision was sustained) that each bill preceding it on the calendar must first be disposed of or set aside.

The Indian Bureau.

The first bill on the calendar was that to tranfer the Indian Bureau from the Interior Department to the War Department.

Mr. WILSON (Ia.) moved its postponement, but the House refused to postpone, and Mr. COOK, who had charge of the bill, yielded the floor to Mr. LAMAR, who proceeded to make a speech on political subjects.

At the conclusion of Mr. Lamar's speech the committee rose, when, on motion of Mr. GOODIN, the Senate amendments to the bill providing for the sale of Osage ceded lands in Kansas to actual settlers were non-concurred in, and a committee of conference ordered.

THE INDIAN WAR.

Reopening Hostilities—A Train Attacked—One [illegible] and Scalped.

CHEYENNE, WY., August 2.—[illegible] Powell, hay contractor at Fort Fetterman, arrived here to-night. He brings the following: Yesterday evening about thirty Indians attacked a wagon train of A. H. Reel, loaded with Government stores for that post, and killed and scalped the wagon master, George Throstle, who was riding ahead, and wounded a teamster; also killed four horses and fifteen head of cattle, and burned three wagons with their contents, consisting of flour and bacon. It is thought the Indians will be very troublesome on this road the rest of the season. Last Friday forty-four head of horses were run off by them from Horseshoe and Cottonwood creeks.

COLUMBUS, August 2.—Eighty recruits will leave Columbus barracks for Bismarck to-morrow afternoon.

Speaker Kerr.

RICHMOND, August 2.—A special from Rock Bridge Alum Springs, Va., says Speaker Kerr's symptoms to-night are very unfavorable and his condition is regarded as critical.

The War in Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 2.—Ahmed Eyoob Pacha and Suliman Pacha have formed a junction near Krugazvats, Servia, and a battle is imminent with Gen. Tchernayeff.

LONDON, August 2.—The Times' special says of the Turkish plan of the campaign: The Turkish commander endeavors to possess the Timok valley, by which he can turn Alxinatz and Delegrad, two points prepared for defense in the Morava valley. The Servians are evidently aware of this, for since their retreat they have concentrated the main portion of their forces in that direction. The chief points of strategetical importance in the Timok valley are Sartschar and Gurgeosiva, as they lie at the junction of the only two practicable roads from Timok into the Morava valley. The next operation must, therefore, be to possess these places, which are being strongly fortified and cannot well be left in the rear.

LONDON, August 3.—A telegram from Belgrade says the defensive position of the Servians at Saitschar is represented as impregnable. The Servian left wing, under Cholakantich, has taken in Bielopolje, and seriously threatens Slenitza, the bombardment of which place is expected to begin within two days. The Turks are entrenched at Izvara.

A Vienna dispatch says the Turks have placed a corps of observation, 6,000 strong, on the Danube, opposite Roumania.

Large sums of money from Russian Commissioners have been received in Belgrade. Three Russian Countesses are serving in the hospitals.

A Paris correspondent writes that Austria has been strengthening the garrison of Semlin in view of possible events. Russia is sending troops to the frontier. The Eastern prospect again looks gloomy.

LONDON, August 2.—A Paris dispatch says it is stated that Murad signed his abdication of the Ottoman throne. The old Turkish party, led by the Sultan presumptive, showing hostility to the proposed constitution, Midhat Pacha threatens to resign. Another revolution in the Divan is anticipated. Abdul Hamid has declared that as soon as he ascended the throne he will take supreme command against the Sclaves.

A Vienna dispatch to the Daily News says in consequence of the threatening attitude of the irregular troops at Sophia, all houses there are closed at seven in the evening, and it is not safe for citizens to walk out after dark unless attended by a guard. At Andrianople sentries are placed in the bazars to protect the people from the Bashi Bazouks.

The text of the official declaration of the Turkish Government explaining why it entered into war against Servia has been received. The document charges that the Servians fomented an insurrection in Herzegovina. The Porte was compelled to ask an explanation of the extraordinary preparations made by Servia. Prince Milan subsequently invaded Turkish provinces, and was joined in his hostile movements by Montenegro. Turkey then had no alternative.

The Times' Vienna special says Mukhtar Pacha is reported to be in a difficult position. The Montenegrins occupy his line of communications from Trebinje to the north, and also hold possession of the heights of Lyabolir, cutting off his chances of relief. If the Montenegrins should sever his communications with Ragusa, Mukhtar would be unable to feed his troops for any length of time.

A Berlin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: I hear from Belgrade that great apprehensions are entertained there that Austria will occupy Servia with military force in the interest of European peace. My informant declares that such course has already been determined upon. An arrangement is making to mobilize 60,000 men for this purpose. Confirmation of the report is wanting, but M. Risistic, Servian Premier, is urging an armistice in order to avoid this.

PARIS, August 3.—A Constantinople correspondent of the Gaulois says three Sheirts of Micca have placed 200,000 Arabian troops at the disposition of the Turkish Government, and some of these forces are already waiting orders to start. The Bashi Bazouks are not to be compared in ferocity with the Seeibiks. The latter, at Smyrna, slew all the people in the streets. The town is in an indescribable state of terror. The Turks feel strongly in regard to the meddling of a foreign nation with the internal affairs of the Ottoman Empire.

Disturbances in Morocco.

MARSEILLES, August 2.—Intelligence has been received from Morocco of a fresh disturbance. The Ghilan tribe refused to furnish their military quota. The Emperor marched against them. His forces were surprised at night in ambuscade, and the Emperor himself narrowly escaped capture. His army subsequently returned to the scene of disaster and devastated the country of the Ghilans and sold the wounded and children captured into slavery.

Cuban Insurgent Leader Killed.

HAVANA, August 2.—The negro Caoba, one of the most prominent of the insurgent leaders, has been killed in an ambush near Sagua.

An Excursion Party of Indianians Call on the Republican Candidate for President—A Short Address.

COLUMBUS, O., August 2.—Nine car loads of excursionists from Indiana, including one hundred and thirty uniformed members of the Hayes Escort Guards of Indianapolis, arrived in Columbus this evening, and were received at the depot by a band. Subsequently the Guards engaged in a torch light procession on the street, assembling in front of the Capitol at 9 o'clock. Gen. Beatty, of this city, introduced Enos B. Reed, of Indianapolis, and Mr. Reed presented the club to Gov. Hayes, whose appearance on the stand was greeted with applause. Governor Hayes spoke as follows:

"Fellow citizens, my friends of Indiana: You all understand perfectly well, without any words of explanation from me, why it is that I make you no speech on political questions to-night. I rise, therefore, in response to your greeting, merely to make my profound acknowledgment to my friends from Indiana for their kindness in making this visit, in paying me, in paying us, the citizens of this city of Columbus, this kindly greeting. We are glad to meet you. We thank you for your call, and trust your visit will be one to be pleasantly remembered. One sentence further. I trust that either this evening or to-morrow morning before you leave for your homes you, young gentlemen of Indiana, and the old gentlemen of Indiana, and the ladies of Indiana, if they are here, will give me the pleasure at the Governor's [illegible] of taking you by the hands."

[illegible] speeches were made by Ohio and [illegible] speakers, and the Governor received [illegible] callers at the Executive rooms. [illegible] Columbus turned out and [illegible] demonstration a lively one.

HORRIBLE OUTRAGE.

The Author of [illegible] Deal[illegible]

LITTLE ROCK, Au[illegible] man named Chris Porter, [illegible] in Hempstead county, went to [illegible] a widow lady and her daughter [illegible] day night, and after knocking the daughter down he dragged her out into the field, outraged her person, and left her almost lifeless. Next day Porter was arrested, and when near Hope he was met by a crowd of men, who took him from the officers and hung him to a tree. The young girl is not expected to live. She has a fearful wound across the forehead. Her jawbone is broken and her body bruised and lacerated.

WASHINGTON TOPICS.

Reparation to an Arkansas Senator.

The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, in reporting on the petition of the heirs of the late Senator Sebastian, of Arkansas, say they find from unquestionable evidence that the charges of disloyalty and conspiracy against the Government on which the Senate resolution of July 11, 1861, expelling him and nine other Senators was based, were, as regards Sebastian, merely a matter of suspicion and inference, and wholly unfounded as to fact, except as to his absence during the preceding seven days, which is proved to have been unavoidable, and was not of itself an expulsory offense. They find, also, that he was an earnest opponent of secession, and remained devotedly loyal to the United States during his entire lifetime. As partial reparation for the injury done him, they, therefore, recommend the annulment of his expulsion and provide for the payment of his salary for the balance of his term.

Republican Senatorial Caucus.

After the adjournment of the Senate yesterday afternoon the Republican Senators held a caucus, which lasted two hours, but resulted in no formal action. The subjects discussed were unfinished appropriation bills and the question of adjournment. The prevalent tone of discussion indicated a determination on the part of a large majority of the Senate to remain in session indefinitely unless the House will consent to adjust the differences on the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill and the Diplomatic and Indian Appropriation bills on the same basis of compromise which has been carried into effect regarding others, namely, to appropriate reduced amounts, but to refer propositions for changes of existing law to commissions of inquiry to sit during the recess, and report to Congress at the beginning of its next session.

Abolishing Pension Agencies.

Senator Boutwell reported a bill from the Select Committee on Civil Service, providing that on and after date, which is left blank, existing pension agencies shall be discontinued, and all duties imposed by law or regulations on the several agents shall thereafter be performed by the Treasurer of the United States at Washington. The bill further provides that to facilitate the payment of pensions in this manner, the Treasurer may designate a sufficient number of clerks to sign checks for him, and checks thus signed shall be paid by officers or banks on which drawn.

Nominations Confirmed.

The Senate yesterday confirmed the nominations of Green B. Raum, of Illinois, as Commissioner of Internal Revenue, vice Pratt resigned; Geo. R. Andrews, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Tennessee; Chas. C. Sheets, Appraiser of Merchandise at Mobile; Oscar Holt, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District of Louisiana and Wm. Hernan, Postmaster at Independence, Iowa.

Gen. Raum has entered upon his duties as Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Silver Coin.

The Secretary of the Treasury has instructed the various sub-Treasury officers throughout the country to pay out silver coin in exchange for legal tender notes and in the ordinary disbursements of the Government.

Chinese Immigration Investigators.

Messrs. Morton, Sargent and Cooper are the Senators on the joint commission to go to California and inquire into Chinese immigration.

The Impeachment Trial.

The report of the impeachment trial was made to the House yesterday by Mr. Lord on behalf of the managers.

THE CAMPAIGN OF 1876.

Sam Carey Nominated for Vice President on the Peter Cooper Ticket.

NEW YORK, August 2.—At a meeting in this city to-day of the National Executive Council appointed by the Indianapolis Convention (Independent or Greenback party), in the discharge of the duty imposed by the convention, after consultation with Peter Cooper and leading greenback men of the Union, nominated Gen. Samuel F. Carey, of Ohio, for the Vice Presidency. Carey accepts the nomination.

Godlove S. Orth Declines the Nomination for Governor of Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 2.—A special from Lafayette, Ind., to the Journal says: The following letter has been handed to the Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee:

LAFAYETTE, IND., August 2, 1876.

DEAR SIR:—Feeling satisfied, after a full consultation with yourself and other friends in different parts of the State, that I shall not receive the united support of the Republican party, so essential to success in the approaching election, I hereby tender you my declination as a candidate for Governor. With the best wishes for the success of the cause, I am yours truly,

GODLOVE S. ORTH.

To Col. D. G. Friedley, Chairman Republican State Central Committee.

In view of the declination of Mr. Orth, the Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee has issued the following call:

ROOMS REP'N STATE CENTRAL COMM., }
INDIANAPOLIS, August 2, 1876. }

Hon. G. S. Orth having tendered his resignation as a candidate for Governor, the State Central Committee is hereby invited to meet at the rooms of the committee in Indianapolis on Friday, August 4th, at 7 o'clock P. M., to take action upon said declination.

(Signed) D. G. FRIEDLEY.

Meeting of the National Democratic Committee.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The National Democratic committee met here to-day, Jno. G. Priest, of Missouri, presiding in the absence of Chairman Hewitt. After approving the work already done by the executive committee in organization and practical work of the canvass, the committee adjourned to meet on the 13th of September.

Congressional Nominations.

EVANSVILLE, August 2.—Curran A. Debuler, of this city, was nominated for Congress by the Republican Convention held here to-day.

DETROIT, August 2.—Hon. John W. Stone, of Grand Rapids, was nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Fifth District.

ST. LOUIS, MO., August 2.—The Republicans of the Tenth Congressional District of this State have nominated H. M. Pollard for Congress.

DETROIT, MICH., August 2.—Jonas H. MacGowan, of Cold Water, was to-day nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Third District. In the Sixth District M. L. Brewer, of Pontiac, was nominated.

ALTON, ILLS., August 2.—The Republicans of the Seventeenth Congressional District to-day nominated Judge Henry L. Baker.

The Bonanza Mines.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 2.—The Chronicle this morning publishes an interview with James R. Keene, in which the latter reiterates in detail his favorable opinion of the Bonanza mines expressed in a recent dispatch taken from the Gold Hill News, and attributes the recent decline to excessive inflation of values, which was sure to be followed by depression quite as violent and unnecessary.

LOCAL POLITICS.

Various Notes of the Progress of the Campaign.

The Republicans of the Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth wards are called to meet in the Lawrenceville school house on Saturday evening for the purpose of organizing for the campaign. A large turn out is expected.

A Hayes and Wheeler marching club has been organized in Union township with 110 members. The officers are: Captain, Abram Winters; First Lieutenant, James Aston; Second Lieutenant, James Reilly. A meeting will be held on Saturday evening next, at the Green Tree school house, for the purpose of forming a cavalry company.

The Second ward, Pittsburgh, Republicans met in the school house last evening, there being a large turn out. The object was the formation of a Hayes and Wheeler club. Thomas W. Davis, Esq., was chosen temporary Chairman, and West McMurray Secretary. R. S. Frazer, Esq., T. W. Davis, Esq., and others made short speeches, after which a committee of five, consisting of Messrs. Robert S. Frazer, Harry Wilson, Dr. J. S. Young, James Black and Wm. M. DeCamp, was appointed to report a permanent organization. The meeting adjourned until Saturday evening next.

The Sub-Committee on Registation, W. J. Diehl, chairman, will meet at headquarters this afternoon at two o'clock.

The list of officers of "The Fifth ward Hayes and Wheeler Boys in Blue" having been incorrectly published yesterday we we produce it this morning. The correct list is as follows: Capt., John Harvey; First Lieut., A. McGrew; Second Lieut., Thomas McCourt; Orderly Sergeant, Robert Boyd; Second Sergeant, Hugh Curry; Third Sergeant Wm. Henry; Fourth Sergeant, James Black.

Johnny Robitzer has completed portraits of Hayes and Wheeler. They are bust pictures, six times the size of life. They will be mounted on a banner 20x24 feet in size, both portraits on each side, of which two are yet to be painted, and swung across the street from Republican headquarters.

An Explosive Mule.

As the shades of evening approached on the Fourth of July a hungry mule was seen slowly making his way out of town, toward the green, open fields on the Aughenbaugh addition, picking up the stray herbage and waste straw to quell the pangs of rising hunger. As he crossed the McCrory bridge a small boy threw a red package, with a lighted match at one end of it, down before him. Without looking at the label, and with thankful looks, the historical animal lopped over his expansive ears as a token of gratitude, and, depositing it in his capacious maw, walked slowly on. As he reached the far corner of the Court House block there began to be a disturbance of that mule's internal improvements, much resembling that of a Chinese New Year at 4 o'clock in the morning. It took him less than a second to decide his future course. Two bounces brought him to the public square, and one leap cleared the Aughenbaugh addition, including Supervisor Owen's extensive vineyard, Frank Martin's ranch and the colored school house beyond. He did not mind the division fences very closely as he traveled toward the sands of St. John, and the livers on the other side mistook him for a portion of the Visalia fireworks or an active volcano.—Visalia (Cal.) Delta.

A Wonderous Woman Swimmer at Cape May.

I have seen some of these ethereal ladies swimming and diving as fearlessly as fish. Recently I saw a couple, I suppose man and wife, a little farther out than seemed to be safe. She would get upon his shoulders and dive from them through the heaviest breakers, then she would attempt summersaults over his arms; for a moment her head and half her body would be in the deep, and her feet toward the zenith. Sometimes, before she had completed the revolution, a big breaker would toss her fifteen feet away, when I expected to see her half drowned and in need of masculine assistance, she would simply spout like a little whale, snatch the brine from her eyes, and be ready for another trial.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1876.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
RUTHERFORD B. HAYES,
OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM A. WHEELER, OF NEW YORK.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 35¼f.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 102¾.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 111¾.

HON. JAMES H. HOPKINS has introduced a substitute for his original bill on freight discriminations. We have not had the time to carefully consider it, but judge it a better bill than the first. We will refer to it more critically after a little.

WE have before us a pamphlet containing testimony taken before a committee of the California State Senate relative to the Chinese in that State. It is a fearful presentation of the immorality and vice of a portion of the Chinese population, and its showing of the effect of it on the young white boys, both as to morals and health, is terrible.

THE New York Sun, which, since its bargain with TILDEN has opposed HAYES, said this of him, May 9, 1876, before its TILDEN bargain was made: "Governor HAYES is a man of talent; he is a gentleman; he is rich and independent; he served with credit as a soldier in the war, and his record as Governor of Ohio is without a flaw or spot."

THE Chinese, who now seem to comprehend the agitation going forward on the Pacific coast against their countrymen there, are said to be intensely excited. Fears of an outbreak against the foreign population in China are apprehended. The English Government is concentrating a fleet of war vessels at points most threatened, and precautions are felt to be necessary by all foreigners.

THE fact that GOODE was voted his seat in the House at Washington, as the result of a bargain, is being generally commented on by the press of the country. Of the fact of a bargain, no doubt seems to exist. He was a soft money man, and went over to the other side, in consideration of being confirmed in his seat. Could not charges be brought against him for bargaining for votes? Still, this is a representative feature of reform.

OUR statement of several days since that TILDEN would not issue his letter of acceptance till Congress adjourned has been confirmed by intelligence from Washington. He is afraid that the House may suddenly do something that will knock the bottom out of the letter and so he quietly holds it back till that danger is passed. He is not in the least disposed to take any chances on the crowd that now has possession of the House in Washington.

THE East has just been relieved from a long and oppressive drought. The length of the drought was remarkable, and it extended over a very wide range of territory. The fields were brown and dry, and the crops were slowly burning up under the torrid sun, which beat so relentlessly down. All around fires were raging, and fears were entertained of severe calamities. Two days steady rain have dispelled these fears, and revived the face of nature.

THAT unawful tariff bill introduced in the House with such a flourish of trumpets, we are informed by Mr. MORRISON, will not be pushed any farther this season. We would think not, if the Democracy have any regard for their chance before the people. If there was ever a tariff measure that succeeded in displeasing everybody,—free traders and tariff men all alike—this is one. The weakness of the chairman of the committee of Ways and Means is very noticable under the circumstances.

IT isn't so sure, after all, that Congress will adjourn, as proposed by the Committee of Ways and Means. The Senate is determined that if anything looking to impeachment is proposed in the House against ROBESON, it will stay in session till he is tried. The House would like to practically impeach him, and then use the fact as campaign capital. This the Senate will not permit. If impeached, he will be tried; and no time for adjournment will be fixed that will admit of any trickiness on the part of the House. So a clean bill is essential to adjournment.

THE Commercial Advertiser, of New York, deals with TILDEN's railroad operations in very plain terms. It says: "The record shows him to be a thief—only this and nothing more—a common thief. A stockholder of the Alton and St. Louis road, placed in a position of trust, he issued in 1867, $184,000 of bonds in excess of what was authorized and pocketed this, at the same time charging the stockholders $20,000 for his services. This is theft—at least honest men call it so. The matter is in the Courts and the evidence is there, but the accused is a reform candidate for the Presidency."

THE silver question is assuming greater prominence daily, and all financial discussion is centering on it. Its salient points we have already considered,—the fact that all our national bond contract were made under the law regarding silver a legal tender rendering it a measure of exact justice to continue it in the same relation. Naturally the hard money element fight it, both on the question of interest and of principle, considered from their standpoint. The claim is that silver has lost its inherent value, and therefore has dropped out of its place in the monetary standard. True, but inasmuch as it held that place when our national debt was contracted, why should it not now? Why continually legislate in the interest of capitalists? If the nation is to be held to the bond, as regards gold, why not hold creditors to the bond, as respects silver? One was just as much a legal tender as the other when the bonds were issued. As to the use of silver in current business transactions, there is no difficulty. In amounts not larger than five dollars, it is not a burthen or loss. Practically, by the use of greenbacks, trade is adjusted to the silver standard already, and where is there any valid reason for not putting it into general use? Let us have some system, at least, that will not be caviled against continually.

THE Post takes the BELKNAP acquittal very severely, but we hope it will, in due time, recover. In the heat of its excitement, it hysterically says: "The failure to convict BELKNAP is the formal endorsement of his corrupt and infamous practices by the Radical party. That party, through its representatives in the highest court in the land, has declared that official bribery and corruption are not crimes that deserve punishment, and that a Cabinet Minister, when detected in them, and after he confesses his guilt, shall be subjected to no punishment." That a failure to convict should be a formal endorsement of anything is a new lesson in logic that we do not happen to have observed anywhere before. It requires exemplification. As official crimes and bribery were not proven, and as the jurisdiction of the Senate was held in doubt, it is rather peculiar that not to act as though the Senate had jurisdiction, and as though the crimes were proven, amounts to a declaration as to whether certain crimes do or do not deserve punishment. There is no bounty on loons just now, that we know of.

THE President speaks with decided plainness about the Hamburg tragedy. He submitted to the Senate papers which show, that in South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi, the Democrats have deliberately resolved on violence, intimidation and actual murder, as a means of securing political ascendency. If they can bring it about, TILDEN is to ride into the Presidency over the bodies of the slain whites and negroes at the South. At the worst period of Roman history human life was not held more cheaply than it is by the Democratic party in this country to-day. Even at the North, there does not seem to be the slightest compunction, on the part of the Democratic press, in belittling, or actually justifying political murders at the South. The impudent and trifling letter of BUTLER, the leader in the Hamburg massacre, has been gloatingly published by Democratic papers at the North, as a justification of the massacre that took place. The President urges prompt action on Governor CHAMBERLAIN in arresting and punishing the murderers, and offers the aid of the United States government, if needed and properly applied for.

CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

We elsewhere acknowledge the receipt of a volume of testimony touching the social and moral phases of Chinese immigration to California. A more terrible showing could hardly be imagined. Clergymen, policemen, physicians, and others testified, and all the testimony united on one point, that the presence of Chinese women in San Francisco has fearfully demoralized and polluted, even to the limit of physical corruption. We have held, that on broad constitutional principles, they should be permitted to come to this country, and settle here. However objectionable the matter might be, considered from the standpoint of the quality of the men, there still remained the fact that if they came as bona fide immigrants, they were entitled to protection. But when a population that is physically and morally corrupt comes pouring in, it is a question whether the preservation of the race from the taint of foul disease should not be taken very fully into the account, in determining the question of admitting the Chinese. As to the men, the evidence is that they are of a low order, without regard for our laws, destitute of moral principle, and ready to do anything for money. Such of the women as are wives are pure, but the vast majority are simply prostitutes, of a type of corruption that is absolutely horrible. Boys as young as ten years are entrapped in their dens and infected with diseases that sap their vital energies, and speedily destroy their lives. There are doubts and disputes in regard to the social and political condition of the men brought into the country; but all witnesses agree that the women are openly held in bondage for a term of years, and virtually are slaves for life. There are about twelve hundred of them in San Francisco, in the heart of Christian civilization, imported for a life of misery and degradation, sold from one master to another, ignorant of their rights and controlled in spite of law by a system of terrorism and brutality that is a disgrace to the age we live in. Their rescue should be instant and complete.

The women, enticed or sold to these dealers, are imported from China as slaves. They are bought in the interior of China, and are called "large-footed women." Their cost ranges from eighty to three hundred dollars. They are thus slaves, and while their slavery is limited to a term of years, when the time expires they are traded off, and so kept in continual slavery. When they are no longer of service, one witness testified that they were thrown into the street to die. The record of barbarity and depravity is so horrible that it absolutely surpasses belief. We cannot possibly frame language suitable to properly express the terrible enormities that are sworn to by many apparently reputable witnesses as common occurrences in the Chinese quarters of San Francisco. The six companies, which assume to speak on behalf of the male Chinese immigrants, and take charge of their interests, whether in the capacity of owners or agents, profess utter ignorance in regard to the importation of women, and reject all responsibility for their treatment. They are literally cast as a prey to the most brutal elements of a mixed heathen and Christian society. They have no natural protectors, and the artificial barriers which our civilization sets up for the protection of their sex, avails them not. They seem to have no rights which an American commonwealth is bound to respect. Such is the present status of affairs as developed in the evidence, and we confess we are not surprised at the efforts to prevent Chinese immigration, in the light of these facts.

FALL TRADE PROSPECTS.

The recent trade sales in New York are looked upon as indicating a revival of business in all parts of the country. The buyers were from the west and northwest principally, and the prices bid generally advanced, till the amounts realized were fairly satisfactory to the manufacturers. The sales last week aggregated about a million and a half of dollars, and served to relieve the manufacturers of the heavy stocks they have been carrying, and so opened the way for putting their mills in active operation once more. Already the mills at Fall River, Massachusetts, have been started, and will continue to manufacture during the balance of the year. The trade sales have thus furnished the best indications possible, and are full of encouragements as regards fall prospects.

We discussed, a short time since, the indications of returning prosperity, and the developments of the past month, in business and farming circles, have served to confirm the views we then presented. In the first place, the usual duration of a panic, or the effects of a severe panic, is from three to five years. Four years is the usual limit, and five years have only been reached in extraordinary cases. Our panic began in 1873, and we are now within a month, of three years, since the disaster came. We are, therefore, in point of time, on the verge of recovery from its effects. Among the palpable evidences of this fact, is that of the improved financial condition of the farmers of the West and North. The enormous export of wheat, corn, pork, and beef during the last few years has placed them in a stronger financial condition than at any previous time since the war. The splendid harvests which now confront them bid fair to outrival in aggregate production anything the country has yet seen; and it is almost certain that our exports of wheat and corn for 1876-77 will exceed even those of the memorable year 1873-74, when they attained their maximum, namely, 105,474.528 bushels. Since 1873-74 vast regions of new land have been planted in corn and wheat. The farmer, then, will be able from the surplus products of his farm to gratify every reasonable want. It is this healthy condition of the agricultural interest which has already given a certain impetus to trade at our business centres. Add to this that the depression which had so long prevailed has given way to a feeling of hopefulness, we might almost say buoyancy. Should present anticipation as to the harvest be fully realized, it must greatly help in restoring the business of the country to its normal condition, and in lessening the pressure of indebtedness which is still seriously felt among the trading classes of our large communities.

Let trade operations once begin, and what we call prosperity will be restored. For a time, our working classes, and even business men will be compelled to economize in order to pay their debts. The remembrance of the hard times that followed the panic also exerts an influence in restraining extravagance, or even liberal living. These are the reasons why we recuperate slowly, even when the return of prosperity actually begins. But we hold that there was nothing in the nature of overtrading that necessitated the panic of 1873; and hence the return of manufacturing activity will naturally create its own demand. The rule or law, which governs in this case, is simply that of ability to purchase. When business is active, and employment plentiful and remunerative, our people consume more; and when stinted in their incomes they consume less. At the time of the panic our mills and manufactories were in full operation, with a strong demand for their products. This demand will gradually develop again, and the indications are that the time is at hand for full recuperation in business. The fall trade will be marked by increased activity and prosperity.

A RUSTIC SWAIN'S ROMANCE.

Bewitched by a Gushing Washington Correspondent.

At the risk of starting all the girls for Washington, with a determination to become press correspondents, we tell this little story as it was told to us by "Curtis," of the Chicago Inter-Ocean:

Says "Curtis," says he, "A pleasant incident in the life of one of our ablest and best known women writers here at the capital has just come to my knowledge. She has passed the years of girlhood, but her mind is as fresh and her ideas as rose colored as if she were 16. Her letters are as widely read and as influential as any a woman ever wrote, for fidelity to fact and principle are their chief characteristics. She has been writing a long time for a Western paper, and her name has become a household favorite everywhere her widely-circulated letters have gone. Among her readers, as she recently learned, was a young-well-to farmer in one of the Western States, who has a large fertile farm, a pasture full of stock, a barn full of horses, a diary, and a well-ordered farmhouse without a mistress. This young semi-literary bucolic has been reading my lady's letters until from his familiarity with her mind, he has been able to frame an idea of her features, and so possessed of her worthiness he has become that the other day he made her an offer of marriage, "sight, unseen," as the boy say. He did not wish to have her answer at once, he said; he only wished to express his own feelings on the subject, and call her attention to himself his possessions, and what ever personal merit she might be able to discover in him in an interview which he sought. His object in writing her was, in short, to make her acquaintance, to propose a meeting here or elsewhere, if she might prefer, with a view, if mutually agreeable, to matrimony. I don't know whether there was a quiver in my lady's breast or not at this unusual proposal. I do not know whether or not she has hidden that young man's letter away in leaves of geranium and rosemary, as is the programme always in the story books. I do not know whether she has thought or not that this might be an index letter to her destiny; but she says she has answered the young man's note, declining with thanks his kind proposal, and expressing her preference to be a dauber in ink spots, and to suck her sustenance through a quill, than to be the queen of a farmhouse and a dairy."

A "FUNNY MAN'S" HOME.

The Architectural Monstrosity in which Mark Twain Resides.

Quite recently, says a correspondent of the New Orleans Times writing from Hartford, I rode out on Farmington avenue to view the domicile of that latter-day eccentric, Mark Twain, and was much edified by half an hour's inspection of the premises. A queer rambling edifice of variegated brick, possessing innumerable steep gables of different sizes, and octagonal wings sprowl on the top of an irregular elevation, facing, of course, to the rear. Fronting the street is the kitchen with a row of clothes lines before it upon which, every Monday morning, curious pedestrians may inspect the family linen. Opposite, commanding a fine view of the stable, and up a steep declining where Hog river, the muddiest stream in Connecticut, trickles at the bottom, is the parlor. Before it, upon a wide piazza, are scattered numbers of easy chairs of rattan, tables of the same material, and here also swings a hammock. It is the pride of the fortunate proprietor that no two rooms in the building resemble each other in the slightest respect, and indeed a glance at the odd nooks and corners, the projecting balconies, diminutive windows, and incomprehensible recesses would suggest an architectural conundrum of extreme intricacy. To the left on entering the grounds are several green houses, in rear a spacious barn, and to the left of that a servant's house, in which many a family might live comfortably. All of the buildings are a dull red, variegated with bright crimson, and may be described as edifices of aboriginal extraction in their war paint.

Just opposite and within the same lawn is the winter residence of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, a two-story and a half white frame cottage, with a high Mansard roof. The lady was invisible at the time of the visit, but a healthy-looking domestic, busily engaged in wrestling with a tub of under-clothing, afforded conclusive proof that the pomp and vanities in this temple of Minerva are not wholly ignored.

At Hartford, Mark Twain appears to occupy the enviable position of court jester, and people, particularly those of a gentler sex, laugh at his drollery with unmixed glee. The misfortune is that those who laugh with the humorist eventually laugh at him, but the author of the "Innocents Abroad" seems rather to enjoy it.

THE SMALLEST OF THE GIRLS.

Lucia Zarate Before the Wondering Physicians—Half the Size of Tom Thumb.

A large number of physicians went to Tony Pastor's Theatre recently to see the Mexican dwarf, Lucia Zarate. They measured her, and ascertained her height to be twenty-one inches. Her feet are three inches long, her legs below the knee four inches in circumference, and her hands an inch and a quarter broad. Her mother, who is robust and of a medium size, says that Lucia is twelve years old. Her face is older than that. Her features are Spanish, and her complexion dark. Her activity is incessant. She played pranks with the physicians and talked fast in Spanish. She stepped into a high silk hat, crouched down, and was out of sight excepting her head. She squeezed one of her pliable little hands through a rather large finger ring. The hand of an adult made an ample seat for her. Standing on a chair, and holding to the back of it, her fingers stuck through the spaces in the canework—holes that just admitted the passage of a small penholder. She was not weighed, but her weight is said to be five pounds; and, poised in the hand, she does not seem heavier. Her clothing is comically small, as though intended for a doll, the shoes and stockings especially being toylike.

Tom Thumb has grown appreciably since he was exhibited by Barnum; but when he first astonished the public he was twice as large as Lucia; and he was then about her present age. She has not grown any, her mother says, since she was a year old.

Old Si's Democratic Sign.

Old Si sat nodding on the Capitol steps, says the Atlanta Constitution, when Pete came along and asked:

"Wuz you up to de raffercation meetin' las' night?"

"What you ax me dat fur, when you knows better, you briggity nigger, you?" growled Si.

"You'se losin' deal dis time, old man!"

"Losin' nuffin', 'kase de Dimmycrats is done gwine ter jess run clene away wid de 'Publicans dis Fall!" replied Si.

"What make you tink so?" said Pete.

"Hit stan's to rezin, don't hit, dat when de blackberries an' de watermillions gibs out de nigger mus' hab co'n bread an' bacon to lib on? Well, dese hyar grass-'oppers done come long hyar and goes lecshurneerin' on the dimmycrat side by eatin' up all de co'n an' green truck—dat's why de niggers is gwine ter sell out cheap to de dimmycrats dis fall, you hear me! PENNSYLVANIA FARMERS.

How They are Affected by the Times—Their General Success in Agricultural Pursuits—What an Intelligent Observer has to say About Them.

"H. V. R.," the well-known correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, who has been "doing" Pennsylvania, writes from Smithport concerning our farmers:

"The body of the people of Pennsylvania are agriculturists. Agriculture in this great State is carried to a point nearer perfection than in any section of the country within range of my observation. Although the farmers appear to me to be comparatively well-to-do, they complain of hard times as lustily as anybody. Farmers, travelers, soldiers and students are proverbially grumblers, and we must take their tales of distress with a grain of discount. They complain that they get nothing for produce worth talking about. In this part of the State the farmers have their incomes from lumber, bark, hay, potatoes, butter and cheese. This is variety, certainly. But the timbered land now brings its owner nothing, as hemlock lumber is too low to pay for cartage and cutting, while bark is down to zero. The whole bark and timber interest is flat, and although the tanners and mill owners suffer most, the farmers feel the loss, for nearly all of them have more or less so-called wild lands upon which they have heretofore depended for a portion of their income. And hay is lower than since before the war. I hear of its selling at six and seven dollars a ton, delivered, and five dollars in the field. And the time has been when the farmer closed his fat pocket-book and licked his chops over thirty and forty dollars a ton. But if the price is low, the crop is good. That of this year has never been excelled. Two and three tons to the acre is the way it is rolling into the barns this season. The case is something like that of corn in Tennessee—one year no crop, and the next no price. Potatoes are turning out wonderfully, and the farmer hopes to get thirty-five cents a bushel, but he does not count upon a larger figure. If the price is not high, there is compensation in the thought that they yield two hundred bushels to the acre. Cheese is down to ten and eleven cents per pound at the factory, which means that the farmer gets only about ten cents a gallon for milk, after delivering it to the factory, as a full gallon is required to make a pound of cheese. And butter is down to twenty and twenty-five cents. Cheese, therefore, at the very low price of ten cents, pays a little better than butter at twenty-five, for three gallons of milk are required to make a pound of butter. On the other hand, however, the milk has to be delivered at the factory, and the factory man has one cent per pound for making the cheese. Therefore, it is a question which pays the best, and the discouraged farmer tells you, plaintively, that neither pay much. Oats are a good crop in this part of the country. They will yield enormously this year, and be worth about thirty cents a bushel. Indeed, nothing that the farmer can raise pays him much more than half what it did six or eight years ago; therefore, he shakes his head dismally when you talk to him of the Centennial, and declares that he cannot afford to go with his family unless the railroads will put them through for half fare. But, the railroad fare question aside, there is a point in the farmer's condition which he should reflect upon. If what he sells brings him but little, that little buys a good deal. The other day I heard of a farmer who received twenty-five yards of calico for five pounds of butter. This he could not have done in the halcyon days when butter was forty and fifty cents a pound. And yet, probably, he went home with a heavy heart, reflecting upon the great fall in butter, and the general hardness of the times. Flour is thirty per cent. less than four years ago, although this lacks in any essential feature of encouragement to the Granger for obvious reasons. However, if he is so unfortunate as to have to buy his bread, the fall in flour will cause a ray of light upon his otherwise darkened pathway. Tea—prime article of necessity in every farmer's larder—is nearly down to one-half the price of three years ago. Coffee holds its own. The same of sugar. But in the use of either of these articles the economically disposed housewife can make a saving amounting to twenty-five per cent. without inconvenience. Indeed, the average family of coffee-drinkers would find their health improved by cutting off one-half the usual supply of the article. On the whole, it is a question if the farmer does not realize as much in the purchasing power of a given amount of produce as four years ago. They do not get so many dollars, but these dollars buy more of the necessities and luxuries for home use.

"In looking about among all classes of people, it seems to me that the farmers have less to complain of than those in any other branch of business. They at least have an abundance to eat, which is more than can be said of the unemployed workmen of the manufacturing districts. The farmers live as well as in the flush times, when butter was forty cents a pound and hay thirty dollars a ton. Their great barns are filled with hay and grain—the complaint is now that the barns won't hold the hay—(a farmer, the other day, in telling me of the low price of cheese and his other grievances, complained also that his barns would not hold half of this year's hay crop, which is very sad). Their stock is fat, their cellars are filled with food, and if an abundance of all these contribute to happiness, the Pennsylvania farmers certainly should be reasonably happy.

"Still, it is true that they feel the 'hard times,' and are in no frame of mind to spend money in travel or luxuries of the sort. It takes a great deal more labor converted into produce to get a hundred dollars—nearly twice as much—as it did four years ago. This makes money look larger, and the average farmer resolves not to go with his family to the Exposition unless the railroad fare is reduced. While it is true that the farmers in Pennsylvania, at least, are out of debt, mainly, and have an abundance to live upon, and that they live as well or better than in the 'flush times' of the war period, it is also true that money does not flow in upon them as it did, and that from the proceeds of the sale of their crops they have but a small margin to spend in sight seeing. The body of the people are agriculturists in all sections of the country, and the railroads must do the fair thing by them."

Nothing Like Comparisons.

"Jim" was hoeing in a garden on Cass avenue the other forenoon. That is, he had his back against a cherry tree and was lazily chopping at weeds and vines together, hitting one when he missed the other. Along came a boy of about the same age, and, looking over the fence, he exclaimed:

"What! You working?"

"Yaas," was the sad reply.

"Hoeing up weeds with the thermometer at ninety degrees in the shade?"

"Yaas."

After a short period of astonishment the new boy confidentially inquired:

"Jim, how can Christian parents expect a boy to hoe and dig and rip up the soil with the thermometer way up sky-high?"

"But I've either got to hoe or git licked," protested Jim.

"Then Jim, come and let's go fishing, and you take the licking. Fishing will last half the day anyhow, and a licking doesn't last over ten minutes."

"It hurts though," mused Jim.

"Yes, it hurts a little, but just think how we'll sit on the wharf and make them big black bass holler for mercy all day long! Can't you stand as much as a fish?"

Jim thought he could, and hung his hoe on a limb, crawled through the fence, and the weeds knew him no more.

A Model Farmer.

Jim Frazier has been cutting grain for over two weeks, and has one of the finest crops ever raised on the Missouri bottom. He has 140 acres of winter wheat, and will clean 25 bushels to the acre; 80 acres of Rye, 60 acres of barley and 20 acres of oats, making a total of 300 acres of small grain. He has also 470 acres of corn, 80 acres of which is in tassel, being the early Dent variety. He is feeding 300 head of hogs, 100 head of which are ready for market, and has just shipped 60 head of fat cattle, and has several car loads left. He commenced threshing his wheat Thursday, and expects to clean up the whole business before the machine moves. That is the way to farm. Who can beat it? Don't all speak at once!—Hamburg (Mo.) Democrat.

Life's Varieties.

As the melodious notes of the church bells are wafted through the sultry streets, calling the little children to Sunday school, and the still calm of the Sabbath morn rests upon everybody, Mrs. Brown is busily engaged in cleaning the children's faces preparatory to their departure to the Sunday school, while at that very moment old Brown is busily engaged with a wicker bottle at his mouth at the lake, mentally uttering oaths at the fish who will not bite. How various are the scenes of life in this world between tracts and wicker bottles.

An Unsolved Problem.

All the great problems of nature are not yet solved. One of the most interesting is how a woman can hold her mouth full of hairpins while she is doing up her back hair, and at the same time impart to her husband exact and valuable information, in a loud voice, concerning the undesirability of his dropping his cigar ash on the carpet.

THE PULLMAN MONOPOLY.

The Railroad Business Overdone.

At Long Branch, recently, with a railroad man of good authority, I remarked:

"Pullman has three residences that I know of, here and in Chicago, and at the Thousand Isles of the St. Lawrence."

"He will want to get them all together on one small lot before many years pass," said the auditor.

"Why, do you think the railroads will throw off on him?"

"Yes, their diminishing business will not permit of any such incubus. It is hard times with the railroads. They are just beginning to meet questions of moment bluntly, and Mr. Gowen, President of the Reading Railroad, goes to the core of the question when he says that too much competition has made it well-nigh impossible to earn dividends. That had already been said by Mr. Devereaux, of the Columbus & Cleveland Railroad. The open lakes and six lines of rail to the West give to much outlet for the crops. Before the war we had single tracks on every railroad; now Vanderbilt has four, Scott three or four, Garrett two or three, and the Erie and Chesapeake & Ohio are also in the field, with the Grand Trunk flanking all around to the North. Low rates are a necessity of such an abundance of communications. Passengers in America now pay the cheapest fares in the world. Ten dollars for excursion tickets from New York to Cincinnati and back! The closest economy must follow such prices. The Pullman cars are very heavy, and mash up the road beds; they bring no revenue to the hauling company, which must also keep them in repair. They cost from $17,000 to $50,000 apiece, and weigh from twenty-five to fifty tons, while ordinary cars weigh only twenty tons. The Erie Railroad ran one Pullman car which cost 52,000—the Orange County by by name. Every scratch in that cabinet work cost your pocketbook to repair it. Now, the bulk of the Pullman cars will require to be rebuilt very soon; they run about eight years, and, then, such is their condition, they must be wholly rebuilt. There are between two thousand and four thousand of them, perhaps. The capital of the company is, say, $12,000,000. When that construction account is made up, and the railroad companies proceed to fret about repairing other people's cars and carrying extravagant 'riders,' the hey-day will be over.

Had Been at Niagara Falls.

There was a man at the City Hall market yesterday, says M Quad, who had just arrived from Niagara Falls. He lives near Racine, but stopped off here to hunt up some relatives. As he was getting a bite to eat he suddenly remarked to the woman behind the stand:

"You keep away from Niagara Falls."

"Why?" she naturally inquired.

"I was there three days," continued the stranger, "and what do you suppose I saw?"

"Something very grand, I suppose."

"Not by a jug full, my sweet woman—not by two jugs full. All I saw was a blamed old waterfall, a small town, two bridges, and one or two scrub dog fights. There wasn't a horse race, no stabbing or shooting, nobody going to be hung, and not one of the landlords would do as much as walk over to Goat Island with you and point out the spots."

He cut a fried sausage in two, sighed heavily, and finished:

"You stay right to home. You'll see more black eyes here in one day than you can there in a month."

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, August 3, 1876.

The banks begin to appreciate the prospect of an improving fall trade, and are looking forward to activity in the money loaning business. The demand continues comparatively light, and money is but slightly called for. A quiet, easy feeling prevails among the banks, and money is plentiful. Paper continues to be closely scanned, but that of first quality can be readily placed at six per cent. In business there has been a slight improvement, but not enough to make a material impression on the community. In the oil trade the most marked improvement is apparent, and the result is the employment of very many persons before idle. The outlook for the future is much brighter than it has been for a time past.

—A New York paper has compiled a statement showing the indebtedness of sixty-four cities in this country as it stood in 1870, according to the census of that year, and the enormous increase such indebtedness has made by giving the latest obtainable figures. The exhibit is certainly startling. These sixty-four municipalities had in 1870 an aggregate indebtedness of $278,600,000. In 1875-6 the aggregate had grown to $640,800,000; showing an increase of $362,200,000, or at the rate of 130 per cent., within a period of five or six years. This affords a fair indication of the political effects of the general inflation and extravagance that culminated in the panic of 1873. In this table the figures for Philadelphia are put at $42,103,866 in 1870 and at $69,616,525 for the present time.

—The London Daily News recently received from the manager of the Deutsche Bank a rather long letter on the subject of the stock of silver on hand in Germany. He denies emphatically the statements which have been made that the stock consists of many millions, that the Government intends to offer so many hundred tons per month, and that attempts have been made to force sales at the reduced prices. He says that the present available stock is only £300,000 to £400,000, that the sales have only averaged two to three millions sterling a year, and large offers at present prices have been refused. Those who are competent to form an opinion in Berlin only estimate the available surplus at seven and a half millions, and as the old silver is coming in slowly, the present stock is not likely to be unduly increased.

—Mr. John C. Hopper, of New York, will devote most of the approaching fall months, says the Boston Journal of Commerce, to calling upon them throughout the country with the view of getting ready for an overwhelming demonstration at Washington next session, regarding the removal of the bank taxes. The convention, at the next session, will contain representatives from every State and National bank in the country, so far as possible, as well as a representation from the private bankers.

—Jay Cooke & Co.'s discharge in bankruptcy was not absolute, as might appear from the telegraphic announcement, but subject to objection by creditors within ten days from the 29th inst. A Baltimore Gazette special intimates that parties in confidential relations with the trustees of the Jay Cooke assets are taking advantage of information thus derived to "shave" claims.

—Chicago is tiding over her financial difficulties by means of a "popular loan," bearing 8 per cent. interest, the certificates to be receivable for taxes. That is, those who pay their taxes now make an 8 per cent. investment until the time they are due.

—British trade returns for the first six months of the present year show that Sheffield trade with America has been less than one-third of what it was two years ago, and trade with Russia less than one-half.

—The extensive cotton mills at Little Falls, belonging largely to Commodore Garner, says the Albany Argus, are at present closed, awaiting some adjustment of his affairs.

—Business, says the Boston Journal, is slowly reviving. One of our largest cotton manufactories is disposing of its weekly product, which is without precedent at this season for several years.

NEW YORK, August 2, 1876.

Money closed easy at 2 to 3; prime mercantile paper 3@4. The customs receipts were $348,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $1,428,000. The clearings were $18,000,000. Sterling was weak at 487@489. Gold opened and closed at 111⅞, with sales during the day at 112. The carrying rates were ½ to 3 per cent. Loans were also made flat. Governments were strong, with an active demand. Railroad bonds were generally firm. State securities were dull. Stocks were irregular, but in the main lower, with Michigan Central the chief feature of the decline. Western Union and St. Paul were strong and slightly higher, while Northwest was steady. New Jersey Central fluctuated considerably during the day, but closed ¼ higher than the opening price. The borrowing rates for coal shares to-day were 1-32@⅛. The transactions aggregated 108,000 shares, of which 10,000 were Western Union, 18,000 St. Pauls, 39,000 Lake Shore, 3,000 Ohios, 19,000 Michigan Central, 7,000 New Jersey Central, and 6,000 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, August 2, 1876.

The course of the Chicago Wheat market is being watched very closely and with great interest, not only by grain dealers and millers, but by a good many outsiders who are operating there on margins; they are "long" or "short" as the case may be, and while some are doing very well, others 'on the wrong side' are faring very badly. The course of the market during the past day or two has been unfavorable to the "shorts," but as they have made a good deal of money recently they can stand a reverse. The other leading articles of merchandise present no new feature deserving of notice.

APPLES—Selling in a jobbing was at $1a2,50 per bbl., mostly at $1,50a2.

BERRIES—Black-berries, 65a90c ℔ bucket. Whortle-berries, 75ca$1.

BUTTER—Prime to choice solid packed, in firkins and tubs, 18a20c; fancy creamery, 25a26c; common to fair packed, 12a15c. There is a very fair demand for prime stock, but low grade is dull.

CHEESE—Unchanged. Prime Ohio Factory quoted at 8c to the trade, and 9c in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—There is little or nothing doing in either domestic or foreign dried fruits, and in the absence of sales prices are entirely nominal.

EGGS—Dealers all agree in reporting a very dull market, and while the supply is not large it is in excess of present wants; fresh stock, 12a13c in bbls and 13a14 in cases.

FLOUR—The general tone of the market is firmer, owing to the recent upward movement of Wheat in Chicago, but there is no improvement to report in the demand and prices remain unchanged. Spring wheat flours, $5,75a6,25, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; red winters are ranging all the way from $6a7; ambers, $7,25a7,75; patent process and fancy white wheat, $8,50a9,50. Rye Flour, $4,50a5.

GRAIN—As already intimated, there is a firmer feeling being developed in the market for Wheat, and millers are more disposed to buy than they have been for some time past. Some operators, however, are still bearish, predicting that the market will react and prices rule still lower, while others are inclined to the belief that hard pan has been about reached; No. 1 old red winter quoted at $1,20a1,25; do new, $1,10a1,15. The Oat market continues weak, and with liberal receipts, the supply accumulating and holders anxious to realize, prices are drooping; quotable at 32a34c, as to quality and condition. We hear of new crop having been offered to arrive at 30c, buyer furnishing sacks. Corn is in light supply, but there is not much inquiry for it; Ear, 55a56 on track. Shelled quoted at 55a58c for mixed to choice yellow. Rye dull.

GROCERIES—There is no abatement in the demand for Sugars, nor is it likely that there will be during the next thirty or forty days; prices strong but unchanged. Coffee continues dull and weak, and the indications at the present writing are more favorable for a decline than an advance.

PROVISIONS—There is a very fair demand, but with the exception of winter-cured Hams, prices are weak. The Cincinnati Commercial of Tuesday, says of that market: "The feature of the week has been the marked decline in Pork, Bacon and Bulk Meats, chiefly caused by the pressure to settle July contracts. The consumptive demand has improved under the lower prices ruling, and the market rules steady and firm. The stock of sugar-cured Hams is very light, especially of the light averages, and it is difficult to fill orders, except for medium and heavy weights."

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, August 2, 1876.

The situation has not changed much for several days; business continues quiet, and there is scarcely enough doing to establish prices. It is said that a strong effort is being made by the "bears" to break down the Crude market, but if so, it has not been successful as yet; it is true, there is less doing but prices are being pretty well sustained. United, Union and Conduit certificates, $2,37½; immediate shipment, $2,57½a2,60. Refined continues very quiet; brokers report that there has been little or nothing done for several days. Philadelphia and Baltimore, 17½a17¾; on cars here, 14a14½c.

It is reported that the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. Co. have withdrawn from what is known as the Standard Combination, and that some of the outside refiners have commenced to ship to Baltimore in the interest of Conduit Co., by way of Pittsburgh & Connellsville R. R.

The Standard Combination, it is understood, have about closed the purchase of the Petrolite Oil Works, owned by Wormser, Myers & Co. Next.

The Barrel market remains about as noted in our last report; countries, $1,40; city make, $1,55a1,60.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, August 2, 1876.

ARRIVALS.

Following shows the aggregate receipts for the week, as well as those of preceding week also:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	547 cars.	471 cars.
Hogs	133 "	97 "
Sheep	80 "	79 "
Total	760 "	647 "

Briggs, Dock & Drum, Commission Merchants for the sale of live stock, at the East Liberty Stock Yards, report the market as follows:

CATTLE.

The run of local cattle during the past week has been the largest we have had this year, 231 cars, and there was no falling off in the receipts of through consignment, 316 cars, making an aggregate of 547 cars, against 471 cars the week preceding. Sales during the week, 2,442 head, against 2,644, preceding week. While the supply was much larger, the number sold was less, hence it follows that trade has been less active, and with a supply in excess of the demand, buyers were successful in forcing prices down about 25c ℔ cwt on best, and 10a12½ on common and medium grades; that prime cattle depreciated more in value than the commoner grades may appear strange, yet it is true. There were more buyers for the former than the latter, and it is worthy of notice that the supply of nice, light, tidy cattle, weighing say from 1,000 to 1,100 was scarcely equal to the demand, while of heavy weights there was an oversupply and quite a number had to be shipped on in first hands. There was a fair inquiry for stockers, and several lots changed hands within the range of our quotations:

QUOTATIONS.

Prime 1,400a1,500 steers	5,00a5,25
Good 1,200a1,300 steers	4,50a4,75
Fair 1,000a1,100 steers	4,00a4,50
Stockers, according to quality	3,00a3,50
Bulls, Cows and Stags	3,00a3,50

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The run was heavy on Monday and Tuesday, but trade was fairly active and prices fully sustained up until noon yesterday when the market began to develop signs of weakness, and at the close rates were about ¼c lower as compared with the opening. To-day (Wednesday) trade was very slow at the reduction, and sales were difficult to effect. The largest proportion of the offerings were stockers this week, and for these the demand has not fairly set in yet. The market as we close our report is dull, although the number remaining unsold is not large.

QUOTATIONS.

Prime 95a100 lbs	4 85a5.00
Good 85a90 lbs	4,50a4,75
Good 75a80 lbs	4,00a4,25
Fair 70a75 lbs	3 50a3.75
Common 70a75 lbs	3,00a3,25
Indianas, according to quality	4.00a5,00
Stock Ewes, ℔ head	$2.00a3 00
Lambs, 60a80 lbs	4,00a5,00

HOGS.

The supply has been somewhat larger, and with no improvement in the demand the market has been a little draggy, especially for heavy weights, with prices off from 20a25c. It is worthy of notice that good light hogs—such as are wanted for shipment to New York and Baltimore, sold more readily and at better prices relatively than heavy weights, which, as noted in our report of Saturday, may be attributed to the depressed condition of the market for lard. Indeed, the former are bringing just about the same prices they did last week, while the latter are 20a25c ℔ cwt lower. Half fatted and grass hogs selling very slow.

QUOTATIONS.

Philadelphia Hogs	6,90a7,00
New York Hogs	6,65a6,90
Good Grass Hogs	6,50a6,60
Roughs	5,00a6,00

All drafts must be attached to the original shipping bill, and in no case drawn for more than two-thirds of stock. Please telegraph amount of draft and car Nos.

BRIGGS, DOCK & DRUM.

Chicago Breadstuffs Market.

Was quiet but firm, New York being quoted steadier, while wheat was stronger. There was a better local demand, but outside purchasers held off in the absence of orders. Sales were reported of 480 barrels winters at $4,90 for unsound, and the rest partly at $6,37½; 975 bbls spring extras on private terms, 200 do. spring superfines and 300 do. rye flour all on private terms. Total, 1,955 bbls. The market closed nominal at the following as the asking range of prices: Choice winters, $6,25a7,25; medium do., $5,50a6; choice spring extras, $5a5½; medium do., $4,75a5; shipping extras, $4,25a4,75; choice patents, $6,50a7,50; common do. $5,75a6; sour springs, $3a3,50; spring superfines, $2,50a3; rye flour, $3,95a4.

Bran was in light supply, and firm at the recent advance, buyers holding back in the absence of offerings. Sales were 20 tons at $10,50 on track and free on board cars.

Corn Meal—Coarse was nominal at $15,75a16,00 ℔ ton on track.

The Railroad Freight War.

The Graphic makes the almost incredible statement that a contract has been made by the New York Central to move freight from New York to St. Louis, at any time within eighteen months, at only 9c ℔ 100 lbs. If this statement is even approximately correct, it signifies that the railway war is to be pushed until somebody goes into bankruptcy. It also signifies that in Vanderbilt's opinion the somebody will not be named Vanderbilt.—[New York Public, July 27.

JAMES MITCHELL,
Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was 3 feet 9 inches, a fall of 3 inches since morning. Cloudy, with a drizzling rain at intervals; there is a possibility of more water within the next day or two.

THE Fontenelle left Cincinnati on Tuesday for Pittsburgh.

CAPT. W. S. EVANS has gone to the country to rusticate for a few days.

PILOTS are cautioned about a snag opposite Wright's, below Carrollton, Ky.

THE Fanchon arrived at Cincinnati on Tuesday, and the Fontenelle departed for here.

THE Granite State is due from Portsmouth this morning, and will return to-morrow at 3 P. M.

THE Yaeger was reported as still aground at Osceola on Sunday. The River was falling fast.

THE Yellowstone left Yankton Saturday with a full load of freight and passengers for Ft. Buford.

THE Iron Mountain was hard aground at the mouth of Ground Hog, the latter part of last week.

THE C. W. Hornbrook, from Wheeling, arrived and departed, and the Veteran left for Wellsville.

CAPT. J. SHARP MCDONALD has been appointed aid-de-camp by Col. S. W. Hill, of the 14th regiment.

THOS. BURKE, a deck-hand on the Iron Mountain, died in the Louisville Marine Hospital last month.

THE Durfee landed 200 tons of Black Hills' freight, and a large number of passengers for the Hills, at Ft. Pierre.

THE Chesapeake has quit the Parkersburg trade on account of low water, and took an excursion party up Kanawha Sunday.

THE Medoc, which runs in the Pink Creek and Charleston trade, sunk Thursday, a half mile up Elk River, and was raised on Saturday.

CAPT. DAN. MOORE, of the steamer Arlington, is here on a brief visit. His boat is at Cincinnati awaiting her turn to load for New Orleans.

THE towboats Tom Rees, Nellie Walton, Joseph Stone, Hornet No. 2, Coal Bluff and Veteran arrived. The Joseph Walton and Bengal Tiger were due last night.

THE Far West is engaged in transferring supplies and troops between the mouth of the Powder River and the Big Horn, and will be retained until the return of the expedition.

THE Cincinnati Gazette of Tuesday says: New Orleans boats in port have compromised on the following basis: The R. Mitchell to leave Wednesday, the Cherokee to leave Saturday, and the Arlington to load next week.

IN order to while away the time the passengers on the Express train, Pan Handle road, Cincinnati to Pittsburgh, took a vote on Tuesday, with the following result: Hays, 46; Tilden, 38; on the fence, refusing to vote, 21.

E. W. MACDONALD, guager of Louisville, reports the receipts of coal by the late run as 41 barges coal and 6 barges coke. Shipments—6 barges coal and 5 of coke. Stock in first hands—3 boats, 195 barges of coal and 11 of nut coal. In the hands of city dealers—149 barges.

THE following steamers will ply between Montrose and St. Paul the balance of the season, making close connection with the Keokuk packets: Minneapolis, Captain Jerry Wood; Alex. Mitchell, Capt. Judd West; Belle LaCrosse, Capt. Wm. Burke; Minnesota, Capt. Wm. Thompson; Red Wing, Captain Wm. Hite; Clinton, Capt. M. Green; Dubuque, Capt. Alex LaMont.

THE Whale will leave early this morning for St. Louis with three barges containing about 400 tons; the boat is drawing nearly four feet, while two of her barges are drawing but little over two feet, and one is empty. She has engagements below, including 100 tons at Wheeling, and about the same at Ironton. Jos. Alexander is one of her pilots; his partner had not been engaged when we left the boat last evening.

A ST. LOUIS dispatch under date of Monday, says: The John F. Tolle clears for New Orleans to-morrow, but it is not known what will follow her as the Alton, whose turn it is, refuses to come on berth at the prevailing rates. An advance will probably take place to-morrow to 50c a bbl for flour and 25c ℔ 100 lbs. Captain Mose Hall was down from Quincy to-day. He has not yet settled for the sinking of the Enterprise, but expects to have the Colossal out of bond again in a few days. Jas. W. Gaff, Esq., and Capt. Bob and Wm. Wise, prominent Cincinnatians, were in the city yesterday, and took a drive through Forest Park. Hon. Lewis Glenn remains here till Thursday, superintending the raising of the sunken docks. He has the T. F. Eckert assisting in the work.

OF the loss of the steamer Dictator at the Hannibal bridge, April 17, the Hannibal Courier says: All the bodies, we believe, were accounted for except that of Henry Young, the clerk. It is reported that he had on his person at the time of his death a large sum of money, and soon after his death a reward of $500 was offered for the recovery of his body, but thus far nothing has been heard of it. It is now certain, at least almost beyond a doubt, that the bridge span in falling literally cut the steamboat in two. One part was found between here and Louisiana, but the question is, where is the other portion? When there is a low stage of water perhaps it may be discovered, and with it will probably be found the body of Henry Young.

WALT, the Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, writes under date of Monday: The collision between the Fontenelle in the crossing at Caseyville is unaccountable at this end of the route. The Idlewild had left the wharfboat at Caseyville to go across to the landing opposite, and the Fontenelle was making the regular crossing to Caseyville, a long way further down. The Fontenelle blew a whistle for the starboard side, which the Idlewild answered and kept on across. Immediately after getting the side she asked for, the Fontenelle, either by a sheer on the pilot or from some other cause, swung around head up stream, and came on at full speed, getting her head more and more toward the Illinois shore. Seeing that she seemed determined to get between the Idlewild and the shore, pilot Matheny turned her head up stream, and succeeded by hard work in getting his boat in such a shape that she received only a glancing stroke. The head of the Fontenelle caught the Idlewild forward of the water-wheel beam, and stripped the lower guard for 40 feet forward, carrying away the cook-house, pantry, &c. The Fontenelle was not hurt, and no one drowned.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ PROFESSIONAL NOTICE.

Drs. Jordan and Davieson

Principals of the Institution of Anatomy, 807 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Lecturers on Anatomy, Physiology and Science, inform their friends and patients that they have again opened a branch office for the practice of their profession at No. 2 EIGHTH STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA., where one of the firm may be confidentially consulted, more especially in all those cases of diseases and debility, for the treatment of which they are so justly celebrated. It is too well known that hundreds, nay thousands suffer from the effects of early indiscretion and seek in vain for relief, for none but the educated physician who has made these subjects a specialty is likely to succeed in restoring the patient to health and strength. To all such Drs. Jordan and Davieson offer certain and speedy relief, and undertake no cases but those in which they are able to guarantee a safe, certain and permanent cure. Their important Medical Work may be had from their office, No. 2 Eighth street, on receipt of 25 cents, and also as usual from their head establishment, 1625 Filbert street, Philadelphia. Hours of consultation from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M., and from 5 P. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. Every case is strictly confidential. d&S

☞ KEYSTONE DISPENSARY, No. 302 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa., a special institution, having a Union-wide reputation for the reliable and successful treatment of Private and Urinary diseases, Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, etc. Everybody should read TRUE MARRIAGE GUIDE, 144 pages; illustrated; cloth and gilt binding; about wonders of reproductive system, marriage, proper age and condition, marriage impediments, causes and consequences. Price 50 cents. Address as above, or call DR. WHITTIER. d&S

☞ PRIVATE DISEASES. — OFFICE 194 PENN STREET, next door to the St. Clair Hotel. For the cure of all diseases of a private nature in from two to four days, by an entirely new and safe treatment. Also, seminal weakness, impotency and all other diseases of the genital organs, and their prevention. A cure warranted or money refunded. Has Diploma in the office, and is a regular physician of 20 years standing in this city, and has cured over 10,000 cases.

For Circulars and Book, 10c., address DOCTOR W., 194 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

HOME NEWS.

Parties who do not receive the GAZETTE by 7 A. M., are requested to notify the office, and the tardiness will be corrected at once.

The probabilities for to-day are stationary, followed by falling barometer, easterly to southerly winds, slightly warmer, clear or fair weather, and possibly occasional rains.

Reunion.

The 100th Pa. Vols. (Roundheads) will hold their eleventh annual reunion at Washington, Pa., Thursday, September 14th, at 2 o'clock P. M. The annual oration will be delivered by Rev. George P. Hays, D. D., President of Washington and Jefferson College.

Straws on the Presidency—How the Boys in Blue Will Vote.

A poll of the Fifteenth Regiment National Guards on their way to the Centennial, was taken from Crawford, Mercer and Erie counties, yesterday on the train, and out of 400 men, all voters, 360 were Hays and Wheeler men, 39 for Tilden and Hendricks and one for Peter Cooper.

Shocking Accident.

A man whose name we could not learn, met with a serious accident Wednesday morning, on the B. & O. Railroad, near the copper works. Being intoxicated he probably fell down near the track and went to sleep with his arms across the rail, and a passing train severed both arms below the elbow. He was removed to the hospital, where his injuries received proper attention.

Continued Mortality.

The great mortality among the canines in Allegheny still continues, and the police have laid in a new stock of strychnine for their benefit. Dr. Czarniecki, the fallmaster, last evening presented his bill for removing dead dogs during the month of July. He only charges the city for removing bodies when he can not find the owner. The bill amounted to $153, which, at fifty cents each, shows that 306 dogs were carted off. Besides this a number of removals were paid for by the owners of canines.

Is This So?

In our yesterday's issue we noted the drowning of a little colored girl named Brown, by falling off a gangway into the river opposite the La Belle Steel Works, in Allegheny. Last evening a rumor prevailed that the girl did not fall off accidentally, but that a man had struck her on the head with a stone or clinker which knocked her off, resulting in her death by drowning. If this is true it seems that the coroner's inquest failed to elicit all the facts in the case, as a verdict of accidental drowning was rendered.

July Collections.

Thos. W. Davis, collector of U. S. Revenue for this district reports the following collections for the month of July:

From Central Station	503	1,755 50
Total receipts for month		$2,164 45

The Iron Workers.

The Convention of Iron Workers spent the greater portion of yesterday in discussing the question of amalgamation. From conversations with different members it was learned that the prospects of effecting the union desired are good. No definite action has yet been taken, the discussion of preliminaries occupying much time.

Of the Sons of Vulcan, who are in session in Emerald Hall, Sixth avenue, James Grundy, of Covington, Ky., is President; R. H. Jones, of Etna, Secretary, and B. E. Jones, of Girard, Ohio, Assistant Secretary.

Base Ball.

The game this afternoon at Union Park between the Alleghenys and Neshannocks will, owing to the warm rivalry between the two clubs, doubtless attract an immense audience. Of the five names sent to the Alleghenys by their opponents from which to choose an umpire they have selected John McClintock, of Meadville. Owing to Sam Wilkinson's injured hand, Davy Miller, formerly first baseman of the Braddocks, will play that position for the Alleghenys. Flint has signed with the Indianapolis club, but it is said that he will be here to catch in this afternoon's game.

Wm. Semple's Ladies' Journal of Fashion, Art, Science and Literature.

The 9th No. of Vol. 2 of this Journal is before us largely and beautifully illustrated with fashion plates and spicy miscellaneous reading matter, recipes, &c. But the part of most intrinsic value, which it would well repay every man and woman in the city and country to read and study, is the partial enumeration, with prices annexed, of Mr. Semple's immense stock and endless variety of goods. Visitors to Semple's great store, and only those who visit it, can form an adequate idea of its great extent, and of the marvelously low prices at which goods are there sold. Mr. Semple's advertisements, therefore, whether in his own periodical or the GAZETTE, should not be carelessly passed over. Nothing in the papers is more profitable reading for those who have any shopping to do. Other reading matter may be pleasant and entertaining or instructive. Semple's advertisements are profitable and should be read, as they are changed from day to day for the sake of the savings and economies they suggest.

A DOUBLE OUTRAGE.

Brutal Assault Upon a Girl of Fifteen.

On Sunday afternoon, near Johnstown, Mary Risinger, a girl fifteen years of age, started from home on a visit to her sister, who resides a short distance away. While passing along the railroad near Dornock Point she happened to look back, and noticed two men following her, both of whom were running. Being apprehensive of danger she quickened her footsteps, and at length she commenced running also, but her pursuers soon overtook her. Immediately after reaching the young woman they took hold of her and dragged her down over the embankment on the north side of the road, and while one of them stifled her cries by holding his hand over her mouth, the other proceeded to outrage her person. Then the companion of the brute followed him in the commission of the same dreadful crime, after which they escaped, and the poor victim of their passions made her way home as best she could, and related the narrative of the assault upon her. It has been ascertained that her assailants are both named Hays, and informations have been lodged against them before Justice Brady, of Johnstown.

FURTHER OUTRAGES.

More Work of the Mollie Maguires—Twenty Houses Near Shaner's Station Burned—A Juror Shot at.

We have already published this week several accounts of outrages committed in the Youghiogheny regions by the Mollie Maguires. This morning still more of their work is to be chronicled. The spirit of lawlessness in the region mentioned appears to have reached a point that certainly calls for prompt and decisive action.

On Tuesday night near Shaner's Station, on the Connellsville railroad, five blocks of tenement houses were destroyed by fire, which was undoubtedly incendiary. They were the property of Mr. Thomas Moore. His loss is not stated. Five men have been arrested on suspicion, one was discharged for lack of evidence, but what disposition was made of the rest we are not informed.

From the Pottsville Miners' Journal of Monday we clip the following:

"While everybody is talking about the Mollies being crushed, there comes news from Mauch Chunk which shows that even if they are down, they intend to die hard. On Friday night Mr. Charles E. Miller, a juror in Aleck Campbell's case, was shot at but fortunately the ball only pierced his hat. Mr. Miller lives in East Mauch Chunk and was in his own house at the time. The would be assassin lay in the back yard, concealed in the shrubbery, and after firing his shot, made off. It was too dark to recognize him, and there is no doubt he will escape the fate he deserves. The circumstance will probably put the other jurors on their guard. Mr Miller has no enemy, and the only known cause for the assault is that he was a juror, and did his duty in the Campbell case. If this is the reward citizens are to get for performing a duty imposed on them by their own laws, from villains who profess to live under the same laws, then these laws had better be abolished and mob law proclaimed and established. But we have no fear that this will be the case."

THE BOUNTY BILL.

Justice to Soldiers Advocated Last Night at a Meeting in Allegheny—Addresses by Gen. Negley, Gen. Blakely, Alderman Smith and Capt. McGrath.

The veteran soldiers of Allegheny county held a large meeting last night in the Common Council chamber, Municipal Hall, Allegheny City. It was an outgrowth of previous meetings held in Pittsburgh, when an association was formed with a two-fold object, viz: to express, from time to time, the opinion of the soldiers in reference to the equalization bounty bill, and to foster and cherish matters in which soldiers are interested. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mr. A. J. Pentecost. Hon. W. H. Graham and the reporters of the press were chosen Secretaries. After a brief preliminary address from the Chairman, the Secretary read the bounty bill, which is now pending in Congress and which provides for the payment of a certain sum to all soldiers who faithfully served during the war for the Union, and to the widows of those who were killed.

Gen. Archibald Blakely was introduced to the audience, and said he didn't suppose it worth while to state that every soldier in the country was in favor of the bill which the Secretary had just read. The country had never paid them for the service they had done the country, and it never could. The General discussed at considerable length the system upon which the associations of soldiers now existing were organized immediately after the war, and claimed that a mistake had been made in forming Corps, Division, Brigade and Regimental associations. He advocated a change and the formation of territorial associations, National, State and County, with the abolition of military distinctions. He would admit to them all soldiers, no matter in what army they fought or in what war, whether in the army of the James, the Cumberland, the Tennessee, or the wars of 1812, 1846 or 1861. The careful exclusion of political and religious creeds was pointed out as absolutely essential to success. The pursuance of such a course, the speaker held, would secure perpetuity.

Alderman D. L. Smith painted in glowing terms the manner in which the soldiers rallied in 1861 to the support of the Union, never asking what wages they would receive nor how their families would be supported during their absence. He told how they breasted the billows of fierce rebellion in defense of their country; how they enriched the plains of the South with their blood, and how many of them left their bones to bleach on the battle-fields. In return for all this those who safely returned and the widows and children of those who were killed ask the Government to compensate them for the suffering endured and the service performed. They do not ask it as a charity, but as a right. In reply to those who allege that the payment of bounty would increase the taxes, the Alderman stated that the people of the United States are not subjected to any direct government tax, and that therefore they would not have to bear the burden, if the payment of the just claims of soldiers can be called a burden. The proposed law is not for the benefit of claim agents, as has been alleged, for all they can collect for prosecuting any claim is fixed by the bill, to which is attached a penalty for a violation of its provisions.

General James S. Negley said that there seemed to be in the public mind an entire misapprehension regarding the purpose of the soldiers in relation to the bounty. There are plenty of soldiers who have been by various causes deprived of their bounties to which they are entitled, one of which causes was the construction of the law by the war department to the effect that some of the soldiers were militia and not in the service of the United States. Many of the soldiers and widows of this country to-day appeal for that bounty and they do not ask it as a charity, but as that out of which they have been wronged. There is justice in every line of the bill which proposes its payment. The amount it will take from the U. S. Treasury has been estimated as high as $150,000,000, but the fact is that it will only take about $20,000,000. The very highest estimate of the Thirty-ninth Congress was $39,000,000, and the parties who figure it at a $100,000,000 or more are those who would compass its defeat.

Captain McGrath, who said he was a high private in the late war, stated that the more this bill is discussed the better it will be understood, and the latter is a consummation earnestly to be wished, as leading to an act of justice toward the soldiers of the United States. Mr. McGrath addressed his remarks particularly to the privates present, and said that when they enlisted the government agreed to pay them $11 a month in gold. That was not done. They were paid in greenbacks. If the government will now consent to pay them the premium which gold commanded during the war, and which they are entitled to, he was quite certain that no private would ask for additional bounty.

On motion of Alderman Smith the meeting endorsed the bounty bill, which has already passed the House, and the Secretary was directed to transmit a report of the action to General John A. Logan, Chairman of the Military Committee of the Senate, where the bill is now pending.

After further discussion the meeting dissolved to convene again at the same place on the evening of the first Wednesday of September.

THE CITY POOR.

Yesterday's Meeting of the Board of Guardians—Monthly Reports—Objecting to Bills—Cost of the Addition to the Secretary's Office—Minor Matters.

The Board of Guardians of the Poor of the city held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon, President Kincaid in the chair.

The certificate of the election of G. B. Atterbury as a member of the Board vice B. C. Sawyer, resigned, was presented, and the oath of office administered to the gentleman.

The Auditing Committee reported Secretary Braun's statement of receipts and expenditures for June correct.

Messrs S. S. Boggs and E. Houston, appointed to rearrange the city physicians' districts, made the following report: First district, Dr. George Purviance, all the territory west of Washington, Eleventh and Magee streets to the Monongahela river. Second district, Dr. Alex. Æ. McCandless, all territory east of Eleventh street to Twenty-eight street, straight line across to Laughlin station and the Monongahela river. East End district, Dr. D. M. McMasters, all territory east of Twenty-eight street to city limit. Received, filed and approved.

Dr. McMasters, physician of the East End District, reported 61 office patients and 52 visits during the month. Dr. Chessrown reported 80 visits and 231 office patients. Dr. McCandless reported 115 visits and 19 office patients. Dr. Purviance, 112 visits and 47 office patients.

Dr. A. D. Brewster, physician to the City Alms House, reported:

Decrease during the month, 15.

The matter of the appointment of another druggist for the South Side was referred to the Monthly Committee.

The bill for putting a new window in the building, by the Monthly Committee, created some discussion as to the authority the committee had for ordering such work. It was finally decided to pay the bill, but a motion of Gen. Sweitzer was adopted, stating that hereafter neither that committee nor any five or six of the Directors acting informally shall have the right to order similar work without first submitting it to the Board for approval.

A bill presented by Superintendent Bullock for labor hired for cradling grain was objected to by Mr. Montooth. He thought there were inmates of the almshouse who could have been put at the work. The bill was laid aside for further examination.

During the month an addition to the building on Fourth avenue was erected. The cost, including the bill for putting in the window in the old building, to which Mr. Sweitzer objected, was $385.50.

The pay roll and monthly bills were approved, except that of Supt. Bullock for labor hired, which was referred to the Monthly Committee.

The question of whether or not Mr. Williams, messenger of the Board should be paid for time lost on account of illness, was discussed at length. Gen. Sweitzer and Mr. Jones favored the payment, but a motion to that effect was lost.

The Monthly Committee was empowered to employ a substitute for Mr. Williams at $50 per month, until such time as Mr. W. is able to resume his duties.

The matter of the purchase of a new bell for the City Farm was referred to the Monthly Committee.

A Reliable Firm.

A business firm, no difference where located, whether in a large city or small town, that has gained for itself this reputation people like to deal with. A firm may be reliable for all debts it incurs, yet sell goods that don't come up to what is promised. But the citizens of Pittsburgh and public generally may deal, and have dealt, with the firm of J. R. Reed & Co., jewelers of this city, and have always found them attentive and courteous, and anything they represent of their goods the purchaser can rely on. They have moved from their old stand on Fifth avenue to No. 93 Market street, the store room recently occupied by John Stevenson Sons, where may be found one of the finest stocks of jewelry of every description, at reduced rates. Give them a call if you need anything in that line.

SEEKING A REMEDY.

Mr. Hopkins' Modified Bill in Relation to Freight Discriminations.

Following is the full text of the modified bill introduced into the House of Representatives by Hon. James H. Hopkins prohibiting freight discriminations. It is now in charge of the Committee on Commerce:

Be it enacted, &c., That all railroad companies and other corporations or persons engaged in the business of carrying freight from any place in one State or Territory to any place in another State or Territory, or from any place in a State or Territory to the seaboard in said State or Territory for exportation, or from the seaboard to any place within any State or Territory, or articles imported directly to such inland place of delivery, be and they are hereby prohibited from making discriminations in facilities in transportation, or in charges for handling, carrying and delivering such freights, when shipped in quantities not less than sufficient to load one ordinary car or usual vehicle; but all such charges shall be equitable and uniform for all persons, companies and corporations shipping from the same place to the same place.

SEC. 2. That all railroad companies and all other corporations or persons engaged in carrying or delivering freight, as set forth in section one of this act, shall, within 30 days after the passage of this act, make and publish a schedule of charges for the reception, carrying and delivery of the various classes of freight. Said schedule shall show the amount charged per 100 pounds, or per package, or per car load for carrying the several classes of freight between the different places of receipt and delivery, and also all other charges for handling, storage, &c., and in no case shall a greater sum be charged for carrying, handling, and delivering such freight a shorter than is charged for a longer distance. Said schedule shall be signed by the proper officers of the corporation or by the persons carrying or handling freight as aforesaid, and shall be kept publicly posted in a conspicuous and accessible place in each depot or office of said corporation or person. Said rates of charges thus fixed shall not be changed without affixing to said schedule, in each depot or office as aforesaid, a conspicuous notice that at the expiration of not less than five days said rates will be changed, and giving the details of all changes proposed to be made in said schedule. Any corporation or individual neglecting to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $5,000, to be sued for and apportioned as in case of the penalty provided for in section 3 of this act.

SEC. 3. That all railroad companies and other corporations, and persons engaged in carrying freights as aforesaid, are hereby prohibited from receiving or retaining less or more than the rates so as aforesaid prescribed from any person or persons or corporations, under a penalty of $5,000 for each offense, to be recovered in any court of record having jurisdiction to that amount, one-half thereof for the benefit of the United States, and the other half to the person suing therefor. Any arrangement or agreement, directly or indirectly, whether by way of drawback, rebates, under-billing, commissions or otherwise, whereby the freight of any individual or association of individuals, or of any corporation or corporations, shall be handled, stored or carried for a rate of compensation different from the rate per 100 pounds per package, or per car load, charged to others, and any arrangement or agreement giving a preference in furnishing cars, or motive power, or sidings, or tracks, or depots, or storage, shall be considered a violation of this act, subjecting the party or corporation violating to the penalty aforesaid for each offense.

SEC. 4. That any combination of railroad companies or other corporations or individuals to defeat the purpose of this act, to regulate charges upon a different basis than that herein set forth, to effect values by sudden and unnecessary changes, to give to one corporation or individual facilities and advantages withheld from or extended to any other corporation or individual is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor, and the corporation or person convicted thereof in any United States district court where said corporation or individual has an office or place of business shall be fined a sum not less that $5,000 for each offense, and shall also be subject to the penalty prescribed in section 3 in a civil suit or suits.

Huston, bricklayer; Robert Young, carpenter; Marshal Johnson, merchant; Anthony Bell, agent; C. C. Hussey, manufacturer; G. Dramble, saloon-keeper; Thos. McKeever, blacksmith; Alexander Fillbrook, farmer; John Cuthbert, bricklayer.

Hon. A. G. Cochran.

We observe in the following remarks of Mr. Cochran, which we find in the Congressional Record, that notwithstanding the general free-tradeism of his party, he is sound on the subject of a protective tariff. We regret that so few of his Democratic brethren in Congress agree with him. What a pity that they did not all dwell, as Mr. Cochran does, amid the smoke of our great industries!

"Mr. Speaker, I do not rise to make any extended remarks at this time; but I am unwilling to let this opportunity pass without mentioning a matter which is of vital interest to my constituents. I refer to the bill introduced by the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Morrison) and reported to the House by the Committee of Ways and Means, in which it is proposed to reduce the existing tariff. When this bill was discussed in the Committee of the Whole I was absent in the city of New York as a member of a sub-committee charged by the House with the duty of investigating the Federal offices there. I had intended at that time to deliver some extended remarks in opposition to the bill; but my enforced absence prevented me. Since that time I have understood—and indeed the gentleman from Illinois in his speech of a few moments ago declared—that it was not proposed to press that bill to a vote this session. I have consequently concluded to reserve the remarks which I had prepared upon the subject, to be delivered at a time when the bill is urged in the House.

I feel, however, that it is my duty now to declare that I am opposed to any reduction of the existing tariff. Throughout my district and State every manufacturing interest is suffering; and it is not only unwise but suicidal to inaugurate a policy the legitimate effects of which will be to bring ruin and disaster upon every industrial interest in the country. It was urged when I was a candidate for Congress that I was opposed to the tariff. This was not true then and it is not true now. So long as I represent my district in this House I will sternly set my face against any effort to strike down the protection which the tariff laws afford to our industries. I promised the laboring men that I would oppose any interference with the present tariff laws, and I propose to faithfully redeem that promise.

I trust that the House will pardon me for having detained it even thus long; but I desire to fairly place myself upon record on a question so vitally important to the people whom I represent.

BREVITIES.

Paragraphic Pencilings of Passing Events.

....The Allegheny Street Committee meets this evening.

....On Tuesday evening one of the workmen in the Lion brewery, Allegheny, was severely injured by machinery.

....The Board of Pardons in session at Harrisburg on Tuesday did not act definitely upon any applications for executive clemency.

....A sneak thief entered the residence of John Mack, on Mt. Washington, Tuesday evening, and stole a pocket book containing $4 35.

....Officer Kennedy about two o'clock this morning found the door open of the B. & O. ticket office at the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.

....The trunk of the man who died at the Union Depot Tuesday was telegraphed for by Depot Master Butler, and it arrived yesterday and was delivered to the Coroner.

....A Councilman out Penn avenue is accused of interfering with officers in the arrest of a drunken and disorderly man, on the strength of his position as a law-maker.

....City Physician Cole, of Allegheny, reports that there were one hundred and thirty-five deaths in Allegheny during the month of July, forty-five of which were caused by cholera infantum.

....Four arrests were made yesterday in Allegheny under the law prohibiting jumping on or off moving trains. Two of the offenders were discharged, one was fined, and the other was committed to jail.

....An alarm of fire yesterday morning from box 215, Liberty and Pearl streets, was occasioned by a slight blaze in the grocery store of John McLaughlin, at Skunk-hollow. The damage was trifling.

....Health officer Hoch, of Allegheny, complains that the people on Itin street won't be vaccinated, and that two more cases of smallpox made their appearance in that street yesterday. Dr. Cole offers to vaccinate them free of cost.

....Yesterday morning, about half-past nine o'clock, a blaze was discovered in the building 3612 Penn avenue, occupied as a butter and egg depot. There was no alarm struck and the fire was extinguished before material damage was done.

....A Mrs. Paulson was robbed of her pocketbook, containing sixteen dollars, near the Union Depot Tuesday evening. She was purchasing some apples from a boy when another boy came up, snatched her pocketbook and escaped with it.

....A couple of young bloods from Monongahela City attempted to "beat" their way over the P., V. & C. Railroad Tuesday evening, but conductor Miller could not see it and left them in a cornfield several miles from home to make their way on foot.

....Walter DeWaldo, a barber, formerly in the employ of George Pastre, of this city, suicided at Sharpsville, Mercer county, on Tuesday, by discharging the contents of a loaded shot-gun into his mouth, producing instant death. Whisky was the cause.

....The Grant street woman who was alleged to be in the habit of abusing a child she had adopted called at this office yesterday and denied the truth of the report. She said the little one had taken money from her purse, and that she corrected it just as she would one of her own children.

....A nine-year-old boy, who says he has no relatives that he knows of, is at the residence of Nathan Havlin, Main street, Thirty-sixth ward. He gives his name as Charles Earnest. John Goehring, living on Coal Hill, has a three-year-old boy whom he found near his house on last Sunday evening.

....The Street Committee meets to-night and will try to let the contract for paving Wood street and Fifth avenue. A warm tussle will likely be had before the business is finished, however, as the kind of pavement has not been decided yet, and hungry contractors will have in bids for every known kind.

....Two men who were put off the Freeport Accommodation Monday evening, for refusing to pay their fare, have made information against the conductor, brakeman and baggage-master for assault and battery. The conductor retorted on the men, who are brothers named Beck, for disorderly conduct and raising a disturbance.

....Lida Brown, a colored girl twelve years of age, residing with her parents on Belmont street, Allegheny, fell from a raft in the Allegheny river and was drowned Tuesday evening. The body was recovered soon after and the Coroner being notified held an inquest yesterday morning. Verdict, "accidental drowning."

....Duquesne Lodge No. 546, A. Y. M., will be constituted at Masonic Hall, Fifth avenue, to-day, at 12 M., by D. D. G. M. Pollock. Duquesne Lodge was organized in East Liberty some time since. It has just received it charter, and after being regularly constituted will hold its meetings in Hailman Lodge room, East Liberty

....In the hearing before Mayor Phillips yesterday of one of the parties arrested for getting on a train while in motion in Allegheny, the railroad watchman testified that the train was running at the rate of fourteen miles an hour when the man tried to get on. The city ordinances only allow trains to run through the city at a speed of four miles per hour.

....A temperance meeting was held in a hall at the corner of Twelfth and Bingham streets Tuesday evening, and an officer found the doors of the hall open and the hall lighted up at one o'clock next morning. Did the temperance people forget to turn off the lights and close the doors, or did the beer sellers light up for them after they had closed up?

....If the Pittsburgh Leader thinks there is no future state of punishment let it go ahead stealing our items without credit. It gobbled our "Almshouse Investigation" and "An Army of Tramps," body and breeches and never said thank you, much obliged, or anything else. Go on in your cussedness, you'll come to the end of your rope some day.—Altoona Mirror.

....We neglected to state yesterday morning that among the assets of the Board of School Controllers of Allegheny city is included the $20,470.65 due it from the late Nation Trust Company, which sum, however, does not bear interest. The liabilities, which are about $5,000 less than the assets, consist chiefly of borrowed money. It is said that the Trust Company will soon be in a condition to and intends to pay $5,000 of the amount of its indebtedness to the Board.

....At Edenburg, in the oil region, on Tuesday afternoon, as James Clawson was engaged torpedoing a well the torpedo failed to explode, and while he was in the act of drawing it out, and when within a few feet of the surface, it exploded, throwing a section of the casing out, and killing him instantly. The body was terribly mutilated. One half of the face and head was torn away, and the arms and breast were also badly cut with the shattered casing.

....The city ordinance against the use of firearms in the city is thus curiously worded: "Any person who shall, within this city, beat a drum, or without lawful authority ring any public bell, after sunset, or at any time (except in lawful defense of person or property) discharge any gun or firearms, or shall play at or throw any metal or stone bullet, or make a bonfire, or raise any false alarm of fire, shall for each such offense forfeit and pay the sum of four dollars."

....A meeting of the Allegheny Health Committee was held last evening, and a sub-committee was appointed to prepare an orinance to allow Odorless Excavating Companies to work during daylight. The City Property Committee also met, and directed its sub-committee to ascertain the cost of having the wood-work on the outside of the market house painted. The Controller was directed to advertise for proposals for furnishing the city with coal during the coming winter.

....Isaac Eaton had a watch that he wanted to sell to J. G. Kuhl, and as an inducement to buy he told the latter that if experts didn't pronounce it worth eight dollars he would give it to him for nothing. A number of experts were consulted and the most extravagant one thought the timepiece worth only seven dollars. In accordance with the proposition made by Eaton the watch was kept by Kuhl, and now he is arraigned by the former before Alderman Edgar, of Allegheny, for larceny as bailee. Alas for the faithlessness of human nature.

....The Pennsylvania Railroad has issued a circular to all ticket agents at way stations, between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, stating that for the benefit of organized bodies and parties, and for the purpose of affording business and manufacturing establishments an opportunity to bring their employes and families to Philadelphia to visit the Centennial Exhibition, the company offers reduced rates for tickets, good for 15 days. These rates do not apply to Pittsburgh or points from which there is a rival line, as a uniform scale has been agreed upon, and cannot be violated by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

COURT BREVITIES.

THE will of Ellen Carothers, of Patton township, was admitted to probate by the Register yesterday. Wm. and James Carothers are the executors.

JUDGE KETCHAM and Clerk McCandless, of the United States Court, returned from Erie on Tuesday evening, and Judge Ketcham will commence business in the Bankruptcy Court here to-day.

IN Common Pleas No. 2, yesterday, Judge Kirkpatrick made a decree in the equity proceeding of Soles vs. Mellon et al., restraining defendant from transporting coal slack, dirt, &c., over complainant's property.

STILL another of the Mayor's prisoners is to be brought before the Court on a writ of habeas corpus, and the records called for on a writ of certiorari. The prisoner is John Wilson, of Columbus, Ohio, and the petition sets forth that he was arrested and committed to the Workhouse as a vagrant on the 24th of July, while en route from this city to Philadelphia. The application is made by his mother, who alleges that her son is no vagrant, that she has sufficient means to support him.

IN our United States Court report we stated that a libel in admiralty had been filed against the steamer J. B. Williams. Mr. J. B. Williams, principal owner, states that the claim arises out of an account of the libellant with W. A. Bunton, who had the contract for building the cabin of the Williams. The full amount of the contract was paid to Bunton, but the latter failed to settle with the sub-contractor, the libellant, and hence the suit. All the claims against the steamer, on construction account, have been paid, according to the statement of Captain Williams.

OUR MILITARY OFF.

Departure of the Sixth Division Last Evening—List of the Companies—Other Organizations.

Notwithstanding the drizzling rain last evening, large crowds of friends and curious sight-seers turned out to see the departure of the larger portion of the Sixth Division of the N. G. P., for the Philadelphia encampment. Following is a list of the officers and commands that left last evening:

Major General A. L. Pearson and staff. Brigadier General Joseph Browne and staff.

Fourteenth Regiment — Col. S. W. Hill, commanding, and staff. Great Western Band and Regimental Drum Corps, numbering 86 men. Company A, Capt. J. M. Shoot; 3 officers and forty men. Company B, Capt. Belfore; 3 officers and 43 men. Company C, Capt. J. W. Nesbit; 3 officers and 40 men. Company D, Capt. James Wells; 2 officers and 38 men. Company E, Capt. Crosby Gray; 3 officers and 45 men. Company F, Capt. P. D. Perchment; 3 officers and 50 men. Company H, Capt. George C. Patterson; 3 officers and 40 men. Company I, Capt. John A. Fox; 3 officers and 40 men. Company K, Capt. W. J. Glenn; 3 officers and 42 men.

Nineteenth Regiment—Major W. W. Tyson, commanding, and staff. St. Cecilia band and regimental drum corps, 75 men. Company A, Captain J. D. McFarland, 3 officers and 50 men. Company B, Lieutenant James A. Gordon, 2 officers and 42 men. Company C, Captain Merritt Batchelor, 3 officers and 42 men. Company E, Captain Peter Keil, 2 officers and 35 men. Company F, Lieut. Jas. Archibold, commanding, 2 officers and 45 men.

Knap's Battery — Captain J. Ernest Schwartz, commanding. 3 officers and 65 men.

Hutchinson's Battery—Captain E. Y. Breck, commanding, 2 officers and 95 men.

RECAPITULATION.

Division and Brigade staff	21
Fourteenth Regiment	506
Nineteenth Regiment	300
Knap Battery	68
Hutchinson Battery	97
Total	992

These went out in three trains, or rather one train in three sections. The first section took Generals Pearson and Browne and staffs, and Knap's and Hutchinson's batteries. They embarked on Liberty street, between Smithfield and Tenth streets. The second section was stationed on Liberty street, between Seventh and Smithfield, and took aboard the Fourteenth Regiment. The third section took out the Nineteenth Regiment, which got aboard on Liberty street, below Market. The Great Western Band accompanied the Fourteenth, and the St. Cecelia Band the Nineteenth Regiment.

Before the departure Gen. Pearson received notice from Adjutant General Latta that everything was in readiness at the camp, which will be at Belmont Mansion, just in the rear of the Exposition building.

The Eighteenth Regiment (Duquesne Greys) will not go out until this evening. They will leave from Liberty street, near Market, accompanied by the regimental band. Three baggage cars to carry the luggage and supplies of the regiment will be in the metal yard this afternoon.

The Fifteenth Regiment, composed of companies from Crawford, Erie and Mercer counties, and numbering 600 men, rank and file, passed through the city yesterday afternoon, taking dinner at the Union Depot Hotel.

The court martial in the case of Capt. Barr, of the Latta Guards, has concluded its labors and submitted a report. The finding and decision have not yet been made public. Gen. Pearson will review the report while at Philadelphia, and make known his decision. In the meantime by order of Brigadier General Browne, Capt. Barr is confined to the limits of the Sixth Division, (Allegheny county.)

On Tuesday Major Tyson relieved from duty Lieutenant Williams, of Company E, Nineteenth regiment, headquarters at Sharpsburg. The charges are for actions prejudicial to good order and military discipline and for conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman. A court-martial will be convened in the case after the return of the Division from the Philadelphia encampment.

THE EXPOSITION.

Preparations for the Opening—Some of the Exhibitors—The Balloon Ascension.

The most active preparations are being made by the Managers of the Trademen's Industrial Institute, as well as by individuals and firms, who purpose to figure in the role of exhibitors at the Second Annual Exposition, which commences on the 16th inst. Following is a partial list of those who have already made application for space in the coming Exhibition:

Hartley Bros., leather and gum belting, hose, etc.
Vatters, Baum & Co., harness.
W. D. Rinehart, tobacco.
D. M. Jenkins, tea, etc., with Pagoda.
Paine, Ablett & Tripp, oils.
B. Tripp, Jr., oils.
Warden & Oxnard, Elaine.
Mitchell, Stevenson & Co., stoves, etc.
Graff, Hugus & Co., stoves, fronts, etc.
H. Anchutz & Co., stoves, grates, etc.
Manchester & Glaze, anvils.
W. D. Wood & Co., McKeesport, sheet iron, etc.
Pittsburgh Steel Casting Company, street castings, etc.
Smith, Sutton & Co., LaBelle Steel Works, Allegheny.
Iron City Commercial College.
Duff's Commercial College.
S. Hamilton, musical instruments.
Mellor & Hoene, musical instruments.
H. Acosta Kresken, preserving natural flowers.
J. B. Sheriff & Son, steam pumps.
Rankin Manufacturing Company, meat choppers.
S. Bradley & Son, woolen manufactures.
Rumberger, Gregg & Son, fancy woolen goods.
Cleveland Patent Manufacturing company, bolts.
Wm. Nelson, stained glass.
Marshall Bros., stained glass.
Thomas Wightman & Co., glass.
Carfield & Hammond, steam boiler, Franklin, Pa.
Culmar Car Spring Company, springs.
Thomas Barnes, safes.
Weldon & Kelly, gas and steam fitters.
F. & S. Heinz, pickles, etc.
Vogle & Co., fresco and stucco work.
Joseph Horne & Co., trimmings.
F. H. Eaton, trimmings.
B. L. H. Dabb, photographs.
Rudolph Marcus, lithographers.
Armor, Fuerbake & Co., lithographers.
James Rees, engines, pumps, etc.

Among carriage and wagon manufactures, Messrs. C. West, L. Giesenkamp, H. R. Davis, J. A. McKelvy, Wisener, Bingham & Scott and others will exhibit.

In agricultural implements, Messrs. J. Dick & Bro., of Canton, A. W. Coates & Co., of Alliance, B. C. Taylor, and others will make large displays.

At the meeting of the Managers last evening it was decided to engage Prof. Gilbert, who will make at least two balloon ascensions each day during the Exposition in his balloon "Donaldson," which he thinks will have the capacity to carry at least three persons, two in addition to the æronaut, and if the gas is not too heavy it will carry four.

All who intend to exhibit should select their places at the earliest possible day, and get their articles in good position in good time. There is much advantage in being early on the ground, and very great disadvantage in putting the matter off until the eleventh hour. The Exposition will open on the 16th of August—next Wednesday week.

AN OBSTINATE HORSE.

The Manner in Which Superintendent Street Conquered a Balky Animal on Penn Street.

On Tuesday afternoon a man, his face dripping with sweat, entered the office of the Humane Society and told Superintendent Street that his horse had balked on Penn street, near Eighth, and, with stubbornness more characteristic of a mule than a horse, refused to move a step. He asked Mr. Street for permission to give the animal a good beating as a remedy for its balky disposition. He had whipped it before and found it quite efficacious. Mr. Street told him that it would do no good to whip the horse, but that on the contrary it would have the effect of making it worse than ever. The man persisted in his assertions that a judicious application of the "black-snake" would produce the desired effect. The horse being but a short distance from the office Mr. Street concluded to see what he could do toward making it draw its load. He walked down the street to where it was standing, and found it surrounded by a crowd of interested observers, all of whom had been attracted by the driver's futile efforts to subdue its stubbornness. Previous to this the driver had taken the precaution to ask the spectators if any of them belonged to the Humane Society. He didn't want to whip his beast and then get arrested for cruelty, so he put himself on the safe side by propounding that interrogatory. As with one voice, and evidently just for the fun of the thing, every man said yes, though it is extremely doubtful whether any one of them is a member of the Society. Finding the horse disinclined to exert its muscular power Mr. Street coaxed it for a few moments, spoke to it kindly and patted it softly, and then taking from his pocket a hemp-twine string, which he inserted in the horse's mouth, he drew it tight to prevent it being caught between the teeth, and then carried it over the head and tied both ears down. Stepping aside he said "get up." The horse shook its head and then moved off as though it had not been obstinately standing there for nearly an hour. The spectators who had been attentive witnesses of Mr. Street's operation, roared with laughter and the vexed driver mounted his seat, gathered up the lines and smilingly bade the crowd adieu. What's the use of severity or abuse where a little kindness and common sense answer the purpose so much better?

We can make our" teeth all white,
Keep our gums in sound condition,
Make our breath sweet, pure and right—
Do all this by simply using

PERSONAL.

Hons. Hugh McNeil and Peter Zern are at Harrisburg.

Mr. Joseph Kerby is the new manager in this city of the A. & P. Telegraph Company.

Mr. W. T. Paul, of Allegheny, shook himself free from worldly cares and hied Centennialwards, last night.

Mr. H. J. Bigger, cashier of the South Side Savings Bank, has gone with his family to rusticate in Ohio for a few weeks.

Rev. John De Witt, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, has received a call to the Tenth church, Philadelphia.

Wm. Neeb, one of the proprietors of the Freiheits Freund, left yesterday morning with his family for a three weeks' stay at the Centennial.

Mr. R. B. Brown is back from his piscatorial pilgrimage to Northern Pennsylvania. He is a devout worshipper at the shrine of Izaak Walton.

Hon. A. M. Richards, brother-in-law of John Chislett, superintendent of Allegheny cemetery, has been appointed Lieutenant Governor of the province of British Columbia, Canada.

Stephen C. Geyer and B. B. Coursin, Esqs., Dr. W. J. Gilmore, Hon. John Swan, Hon. Jacob Wainwright and Col. Andrew Stewart are by this time lost to sight in the sylvan shades of the Fayette county mountains. They are exploring for fish and game.

Miss Belle, daughter of Mr. G. E. North, managing editor of the Commercial, was married last evening, at St. Paul's Episcopal church, on Roberts street, by Rev. Mr. Crumpton, to Mr. J. R. Rupe, of this city. They will make an extended wedding tour through the South, and at Charleston, S. C., embark for a sea voyage to the Centennial.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

THOMAS A. WHITE, of the East End, will take his summer vacation at Claremont. He procured a ticket from the Deputy Mayor for thirty days.

JOHN ROSECK was committed to jail yesterday to await a hearing on a charge of perjury before Alderman Gallagher, on oath of J. D. McDonough.

THE wholesale liquor store of Getty & Co., corner First avenue and Cherry alley was burglarized Tuesday night, and $8 in money taken, besides some liquors.

AMONG the cases disposed of by Deputy Mayor Hoerr yesterday morning was Willie Eaton, a boy twelve years of age, who was picked up on the streets for vagraacy. He states that he ran away from his parents who reside at Columbus, Ohio. He was committed to jail and his parents written to.

TWO YOUNG MEN who gave their names as John Wickle and John Arthurs drove across the Union bridge yesterday afternoon without paying their toll. They were arrested and taken before Mayor Phillips, who fined them $5 and costs each, in default of the payment of which they were committed to jail for ten days each.

A ROW occurred in a saloon opposite City Hall Tuesday night, during which one of the participants alleges he was knocked down with a "billy," cut in the side with a knife and his watch stolen. Information was made before Alderman McMasters, charging one of the participants in the fracas with felonious assault and battery and with larceny, and he gave bail in $4,000 for a hearing.

THERE was a gathering of "Cullud folks" at Meyers' tavern in the East End Tuesday night, and in the midst of the festivities a row ensued during which pistols were fired and clubs used indiscriminately. The police dropped in on the parties and arrested four, three men and a woman. The woman was discharged. One of the men was committed to the Workhouse for thirty days, one to jail for ten days and the other paid five dollars and costs.

OFFICER CLEMENS, of Alderman McMaster's force, arrived in the city yesterday morning with J. B. Ellis, whom he arrested in Oswego, New York, on a requisition from Governor Hartranft. In July last it is alleged that Ellis, while in company of T. C. Campbell, of the South Side, inveigled that gentleman into an unfrequented street, knocked him down, and robbed him of a gold watch and chain valued at two hundred dollars, and six dollars in cash. Information was made before Alderman McMasters by Campbell, but Ellis "skipped," and his whereabouts was not known until a few days since. The watch was found at Susman's pawn shop, Wylie street, and the chain is said to be in New York. Ellis was committed for a hearing.

Vulcanite Pavement.

So far as we know every person who has carefully inspected the specimens of vulcanite pavement as made in this and other cities by Messrs. Filbert & McDowell, have entire confidence in its permanence and durability, and there being no doubt of its smoothness and self-cleansing qualities, there is quite a general wish that the paving of Wood street and Fifth avenue should be vulcanite.

The undersigned Commissioners appointed by Court of Common Pleas No. 2, in Equity sitting, will offer for sale at

Public Auction
ON THE
Third Monday of August, Being the 21st Day of said Month,

To the highest bidder, on the following terms: One-third cash, balance in one and two years, with interest on deferred payments, secured by mortgage on the property, all of the following property, to-wit:

1st—All that lot or portion of ground, situated in the borough of Sharpsburg, beginning at a post on Main street; thence southward by the land of Thos. Cook to the Allegheny river at low water mark; thence up said river eastward to the land of Jacob Cook; thence northward by said J. Cook's land and Main street; thence by said street 90 feet to the place of beginning.

2d—Also, all that certain house and lot of land, situated in the borough of Sharpsburg, beginning at a post on Main street, at the southeast corner of a lot of ground, owned by the State of Pennsylvania and attached to the said No. 5; thence along the line of said State lot 120 feet 6 inches to the towing path of the Pennsylvania Canal; thence by and down said towing path south 6½ degrees, west 99 feet 6 inches to a post; thence due south by lands of Henry Butterfield 79 feet to Main street aforesaid; thence by Main street 85 degrees, east 87 feet 6 inches to the place of beginning, as the same is described in Deed, recorded 8th of January, A. D. 1856, in volume 94, page 118.

The foregoing property is to be sold for the sake of a division between the persons to whom it belongs. The title is good—beyond controversy.

Possession immediately given after the sale is completed.
